My Granny

My granny was a fierce woman, she was strong,
Didn't care to let you know if you were wrong,
She was opinionated and she'd always let you know,
Very quickly if you didn't live right just where you'd go,
She'd say things we didn't like and it would cause us to fight,
Perhaps we were just mad cause we knew that she was right,
She knew what was best for us even though we listen much,
And when we messed up she'd be there to be our crutch,
My granny was loved by so many people everywhere she went,
Cause any time with her was time much well spent,
She was an amazing role model that we looked up to,
She'd help anyone if she thought it was the right thing to do,
She let us know when she was proud and when she wasn't,
We all still love her there's not a person who doesn't,
She had an enormous heart and she was funny too,
She could have you laughing until your face was blue,
When she got sick she stayed strong for us,

And for a while we all got along without any fuss,
Some of us grew closer together there at the end,
Gathered around waiting on angels for God to send,
My granny is in heaven now but it hasn't been that long,
And we miss her more each and everyday since she's been gone,
She wasn't just a mother or grandmother she was so much more,
She was our best friend and now our angel with wings to soar.

Guys

There are guys who are lovers,
And guys who are leavers.
Guys that are thoughtful,
Guys who are deceivers.

Some just wanna make you smile,
And some who are just plain rude.
There's guys who show respect,
While others only want you nude.

There's guys who just wanna have sex,
And guys who want something more.
Guys who will shatter your heart,
And guys to pick it up off the floor.

There's two types of guys out there,
Wondering around on this earth.
Guys who don't care at all,
And guys who know your worth.

There's guys that like to play games,
And guys who wanna settle down.
Some who don't care of you cry,
And some who would never make you frown.

There's spiteful guys and cheaters,
The ones who have no heart.
Guys who are simply amazing,
Who love you from the start.

Guys who never ever call,
Guys who blow up your phone.
Guys who cancel plans,

Guys who won't leave you alone.

So when you finally find a guy,
Make sure he's the right choice.
And if you choose the wrong one,
Stand up and don't lose your voice.

Perfect Guy

For as long as she can remember,
she's been mistreated,
Always been insecure about herself,
Never once conceited,

She's had her heart broken before,
Never really understood why,
She wondered every single day,
If she'd ever find the perfect guy,

Perhaps if she'd stop searching,
One day he'd miraculously appear,
And maybe once in her life,
She'd never have another fear,

After a while she finally gave up,
She just didn't know what to do,
Thought she'd be alone forever,
But that was until she met you,

She fell for you hard,
She fell for you fast,
She found the perfect guy,
And prayed for it to last,

As time went on she was happy,
Always a smile on her face,
There's nothing more she wanted,
Than your warm gentle embrace,

She was super ecstatic,
Heart filled with joy,
Until the day she found out,

You were playing her like a toy,

She tried to talk things out,
But you didn't wanna listen,
You blamed her for it all,
While tears in her eyes glistened,

And all because she loved you,
She tried to make things work,
She wanted that perfect guy back,
But all she got was hurt,

You broke her down completely,
You made her feel so low,
That gaping hole in her heart,
To you she'd never show,

Cause despite the horrible things,
You did to her self esteem,
She tried to be happy,
Cause you two were a team,

But one day when she awoke,
She realized one thing that's true,
You're not the perfect guy,
And you will no longer do,

She knows what she's worth,
And you're not worth her time,
She deserves the perfect guy,
Not heartless filthy grime,

So when you see her with a new guy ,
And she's smiling from ear to ear,
Remember that could have been you,
But you let her perfect guy disappear.

My Little Girl

As I sit and watch you play,
I wish I could be here everyday,

You're growing up and I'm missing it all,
Since the last time I saw you you've gotten so tall,

Your voice is changing as well as your looks,
No longer into dolls and soon you'll be reading books,

Just because mommy isn't always here with you,
Doesn't mean I don't love you cause I do it's true,

But mommy wants to better wants to better her life and can't do it here,
Too many temptations and bad influences in her ear,

Just have a little patience, just a little more time,
Everything will be back to normal and we will be just fine,

Also understand that I'm nothing like your dad,
I love you so much, being away from you makes me sad,

I know I should call more than I do,
I absolutely love when I get to talk to you,

I'm so afraid that you're gonna hate me,
Never think I don't love you, if only you could see,

How much it hurts being gone,
Without you I feel so alone,

You mean everything to me, you're my entire world,
No matter how old you get you're still my little girl,

I hate that I only see you every 2 weeks or so,
It breaks my heart everytime I have to go,

But hopefully one day very very soon,
I'll have you back and I'll be over the moon,

Cause you're my little shinning star,
I love you with all of my heart.

Love Is

Love isn't being hateful,

It's being happy and grateful,

Love shouldn't make you fight,

Or have you doing things out of spite,

Love is supposed to make you excited and proud,

Not in each others faces yelling and screaming loud,

Love is when you don't wanna change the other,

Its loving them as they are and not another,

Love is also noticing the good, not just the bad,

Its when you find yourself smiling and not always sad,

Love is caring about the others feelings and watching what you do,

Not doing something cause you're mad and don't think for a few,

Love is when you give more than you receive,

Its when you can trust and you can believe,

Love isnt thinking you're always right,

Its admitting when you're wrong, even if it takes all your might,

Love is when you hug that special someone and you feel at home,

Its never ever wanting to leave them alone,

Love is when that person brightens your day with a simple smile,

Its when they walk into a room and your heart melts into a pile,

Love is never supposed to hurt,

Its meant to feel good not like work,

Some people say I don't know what love is but I do,

Love is sweet and kind but most of all its you.

I love you but I hate you

Sometimes when its quiet and I look over at you,
My world is suddenly perfect and my skies are blue,
But at the same time thoughts stir in my head,
As I start questioning everything you've ever said,
I'm fighting a losing battle that I'll always lose,
Cause I always feel like the last person you choose,
You make me happy but miserable at the same time,
I'm both proud and disappointed to call you mine,
There are days I feel like I can trust you, And some I think everything is sneaky you do,
I love you more than life but I also hate you too,
Bad things you've done to me I wanna do to you,
I guess I don't know how to let things go,
Maybe I'm meant to be miserable I'll never know,
When everything is going good I'm still not content,
Happy has already came and then went,
But I can never bring myself to pay you back for what you do,
I guess you could say I'm a good one and my love is true,

I just wish it could've turned out better than this,

Like when we met, those are the times I miss.

Alone

I can feel my heart strings breaking,
It cant take much more of this aching,
Every time we fight you wanna run and push away,
My mind starts scrambling. I dont know what to say,
I told you just patient and give me time,
When I get the medication you'll be proud to be mine,
I know my mind turns on me and has me confused,
It makes me mad at you and you're blamed and accused,
But you refuse to help the situation at hand,
Alone and heart broken is where I always stand,
When I cry you act as if I'm not there,
You laugh and giggle like you don't even care,
Yes I blame myself just like you do,
But I try my best to trust amd love you,
If you'd just wait until I get back on the medication,
You'll see the best side of me and be full of dedication,
Stop leaving me every time we fuss and fight,
We're having a baby so we've got to get this right,
Just show me you love me and that you care,
Let me know you want me and you'll always be there.
