I feel like a storm, a hurricane inside Crashing through emotions, with nowhere left to hide
i'm a tangled mess of shadows, a battlefield of scars

And I wonder, can anyone truly love me as I am, behind these bars?
I push you away, not because I want to

But because I fear you'll see the truth
The darkness that lingers, the pain that won't cease
Can anyone love this intensity, this chaotic, broken peace?

I crave a love that burns, a fire in the soul
But I'm terrified of getting consumed, losing all control
I'm a walking contradiction, a paradox of need Wanting to be held close, yet begging you to recede Maybe I'm too much, too loud, too raw, too real
A constant rollercoaster, an emotional appeal
I'm a challenge to unravel, a puzzle to decode
Can anyone handle the weight, the heavy, heavy load?

I push you away, not because I want to
But because I fear you'll see the truth

Can anyone love this intensity, this chaotic, broken peace?

So I brace myself for impact, for the inevitable fall Knowing that loving me is a risk, a gamble for it all

But deep down, I still yearn for a love that's unafraid
To dive into the depths, where my true self is displayed.

Awakening

In twilight's soft and silent sleep Where dreams and shadows weave an creep Stars whisper secrets in the night, Guiding us to a deep slumber's light.

In this realm where time stands still, Moonlight dances on the hill Memories and hopes collide, In sleep's embrace, there's nothing to hide.

The gentle rustle of the leaves, A lullaby the night wind sings Cradling us in nature's rhythm
,Awakening dreams that daylight brings.

The dreams that visit in the night, Are fragments of the heart's delight They weave a tale of joy and sorrow Promising us a brighter tomorrow.

As dawn begins to paint our sky, The dreams of night bid us goodbye, We wake refreshed, with our energy high, Ready for the day to fly right by.

Betrayal by you

I loved you more than you fucking deserved, You twisted the knife, left my soul unnerved, All I did in this torment was wait for you, But now the truth's a bullet, and I'm breaking through.

Betrayal, your venom runs deep,
Left me bleeding, in the dark to weep,
Your lies, your games, they shattered my core, But now I'm rising, stronger than before.

Promises you made, they were poison in my veins, Left me broken, drowning in your chains, But through the chaos, I found my fight, No more waiting, I'm taking back the night.

Betrayal, your venom runs deep,
Left me bleeding, in the dark to weep, Your lies, your games, they shattered my core, But now I'm rising, stronger than before.

Now the chains are broken, I'm unleashed No more illusions, your hold has ceased, Your betrayal was the fire ignited,
To rise above, no longer blinded!

Betrayal, your venom runs deep,
Left me bleeding, in the dark to weep,
Your lies, your games, they shattered my core, But now I'm rising, stronger than before.

I loved you more than you fucking deserved, But now I'm stronger, now I'm preserved, Your betrayal, it made me who I am, A warrior, taking my final stand

Black tears

I put on my makeup and I start to cry
Black tears just rolling out of my eyes
I'm the wrong kind of famous no one likes If all my pain could just disappear I'd quite crying all these black tears.
I see all angels in a sinners town Watching them all cheer really loud While I'm sitting here fighting the pain
And wishing I could just disappear Just wipe away all my black tears.
Upon my liar's chair
Full of broken thoughts
I can't come to turns to repair what i lost Wishing these feelings will die away
And learn how to blend with a crowd That's full of laughter that never fades away.

Blood & sweat

I'm a ticking time bomb, ready to explode
In this chaos, I find my code Fists clenched, heart of stone
In this battle, I stand alone

I'm a bad ass warrior, cant hear my cry
In the face of fear, I won't deny Blood and sweat, I'll give it all
In this fight, I'll never fall

My Rage burns deep within my veins Through the struggle, I break these chains Every scar, a badge of pride In this war, I won't damn hide

I'm a warrior, do you hear my cry
In the face of fear, I won't deny
In this fight, I'll never fall

Under fire, I'll bare my ground
In this war, I won't back down Through the darkness, I'll find my stand In this war, I'll take command

I'm a warrior, hear my cry
In the face of fear, I won't deny
Blood and sweat, I'll give it all
In this fight, I'll be your boss

Bravery

Your presence feel like being surrounded by thousands of demons at once your touch is like bullets hitting my chest and knocking me on my ass you cant bring me down just so you know no more cold days in hell your deeds were never good You're just satan's little helper.
and always will be 'Fear and bravery will remain my lights they will keep me out of the dark every night !
so give me your best shot youll always lose this war because this is my fight now and i am on top of this world

Broken dark road

On a broken dark road, shadows have consume,I end up walking alone, lost in the night .Every step echoes, a haunting sound apperears ,The night is cold, no solace found here.

Through the pain and the sorrow, I wander blind, In this endless night, peace I cannot find. On this broken dark road, hope fades away, But I'll keep moving, through the night, I'll stay.

The wind it howls, whispers of despair,

Ghosts of the past, linger in the air. But I keep moving, through the fear, For in the distance, a faint light appears.

Through the pain and the sorrow, I wander completely blind, in this endless night, peace I cannot find. On this broken dark road, hope fades away, But I'll keep moving, through the night, I'll stay

Every crack in the pavement, a scar on my soul, Battles fought, stories untold.

But through the cracks, shadows grow,

On this broken dark road, darkness flows.

Through the pain and the sorrow, I wander blind,In this endless night, peace I cannot find.On this broken dark road, hope fades away, But I'll keep moving, through the night, I'll stay.

So I'll keep walking, through the night,

On this broken dark road, no end in sight.

Burdens

Within myself I feel my own weight, A deep burden hidden, a heart in a desolate state. Tears held captive, love's flame has extinguished, the Trust all shattered, leaving wounds that can't be relinquished.

My loud voice, became a whisper lost in the wind, An unnoticed ghost, longing to be pinned. My Feelings go ignored, dismissed with disdain, But I won't let my heartache feel shamed or go in vain.

These burdens I bear, it suffocates and oppresses, Yet I'll rise from the ashes, defy life's suppressions. Feeling the pain, I will find my own strength For in vulnerability, I'll discover what is real and what is fake.

In my lonely self I'll forge this path of my own, and Unveiling love's complexities, seeds yet need to be sown. I will Not stay silenced, my battles I'll always face, Creating a world where hearts find its place.

Butterfly

If i were a butterfly Flying wild and free
And not a cry in a world Full of worry and misery

I'll soar above the trees
With my Delicate wings
And feel the freedom
And the gentle breeze

But even as a butterfly
I'll face challenges in life I'll spread my wings
And find my way through Every fight.

Chasing dreams

In the realm of our dreams, we shall always roam, we should be Chasing new horizons, far from home. To keep hearts and spirits high, Together, we'll reach our goals and thrive.

Our Mountains may crumble, but we'll stand tall, Refusing to be used as a mere wall. Inspiring others, we will pave our way, and conquer our dreams, that we chase to stay.

A midst chaos, our passion will be true Guiding lost souls towards their home. With words of hope, we'll heal the hurt And build a world where happiness will remain strong.

So let us write, with fervor and fire, Poems that inspire and never retire. In this journey We'll create peace across our land.

For dreams are rare, and voices aren't heard but In our poems, they shall belong. With every word, we'll set them free, A symphony of dreams, for all to really see.

Cold light

I see all the shadows that are cast, as I try to release my trapped soul, A battle fought, to feel complete and whole.

Within my darkness, a weakness scrolls, my strength that silently hides, will help me reach all my goals.

I face my demons that whisper and taunt, In the depths of my being, I do respond, I confront. Through tears and struggles, I'll find my way, with Accepting the darkness, turning to only gray.

Releasing my pain that still remains, As my journey is a quest to erase all the strains. For within the depths, a flicker of light, Resilience shines through my darkest nights.

I'll nurture that spark, back to life, Ignite my way with banishing and fight. One day, my light won't be so cold I'll embrace the warmth, and keep it emerging steady and strong.

CrAvE

You say you know me, but you don't,
Accusations fly, but I won't.
I try to share what's deep inside,
My wants and needs, I can't hide.

You never wanna talk 'bout me,
What really matters, can't you see?
I hear you out, but sometimes I fade,
I wanna travel, see the world I crave.

Every day feels like a fight,
I'm searching for my own life
You keep your walls, I'm breaking mine There's so much more that I wanna be.

You never wanna talk 'bout me,
What really matters, can't you see?
I hear you out, but sometimes I fade,
I wanna travel, see the world I crave.

Eventually, I'm gonna take flight, Float in the clouds, chase that light.
With every step, I'll find my time Leaving behind what holds me down

You never wanna talk 'bout me,
What really matters, can't you see?
I hear you out, but sometimes I fade,
I wanna travel, see the world I crave.

So here I am, I'm breaking through, Finding my voice, it's long overdue.
I'll spread my wings and soar so high,

In the clouds, I'll learn to fly.

Dark void

In the quiet shadows, I silently tread, With thoughts and emotions, heavy as lead. A heart full of whispers, a mind full of thoughts. It never gets easier the pain never stops.

I stopped sharing my sorrow, my deep, dark void. Fearing the burden the weight to avoid my Friends and family, I don't want to strain, With the echoes of heartache, the whispers of pain.

All of my struggles, they add to the load, On this winding and scary untraveled road. But in the silence, I Keep moving ahead With a bit of hope, deep in my souls darkest stead

For in this journey there's strength yet to find A voice that is gentle, but never confined. I'll reach out for help, in ways that I can, To lift me up and help guide me to solid land.

To those who might listen, to those who might care, I'll share my journey, my heart is laid bare. For in every struggle, there's courage to see And in every heartache, a path to feel free. In the current quiet shadows, I silently tread,

With thoughts and emotions, heavy like lead.

But from the darkness, I'll rise and transcend, Leaving behind the void till my soul mends

Darken dens

My veins are bleeding

My body aching

Every inch of my bones are just braking

I can't see the light

Darkness is calling my name

Ill be drowning the rest of my life in all this sorrow and pain

Worrying is taking over

My breathing is so shallow

Can't even fog a cold glass window

Im always lost of words

It just roots away in my head

My bed is getting colder n my heart beating slower

My world around me is empty n its getting lonener

The darkness is taking over my life in, every little way

I can't escape this hell am in My fear is lying in the devils darken dens where my soul will always remain

Demons unleashed

Our walls are upside down
My heart is on fire now
I try to turn off my mind
And act like everything's fine
But my demons are unleashed
And they want to relieve the heat
All the fighting made me insane You've made me suffer in pain
I'm screaming inside my soul
And you don't even care anymore An I cant hold on to the hurt While I am trying to breath
And your still counting on me
It's time for me to feel free
You sit there like your in heaven
While I'm suffering in hell Your laughing and giggling While I'm crying and screaming
It's time you feel the shit you've done to me.
Time for me to shine in the clouds time for me to feel freedom & peace And watch you burn to the ground My demons have unleashed they have finally set me free from all the burden you put on me

dont fight for the one you love

i gave it all i had an it crumbled apart with every aching piece of my heart i fought hard for you an you didn't fight back it showed me how much u cared less i didn't want it to end but you refused to change in the end you've lost everything over you selfish acts while ill sit back n just laugh they always say you never know what you had till its gone now that it ened it will catch up with u in the end you'll wake up an see that what u had was good you'll regret it soon enough an you'll be the one in the end with the broken heart
dont fight for the one you love
if they cant fight back to keep the love

Door is open

You want to walk in my life

The door is open

You want to walk out of my life

The door is open

If you want to talk bad bout Me

only because its making you envy me giving me the power to shame the enemy

But once you walk out of my life

There's no turning back

Don't come,knocking on the door

That hit you in the ass

Drowning

I keep hearing those voices in my head, Echoes of words that everyone has said.
The weight of the world is dragging me down, Feels like I'm fading, like I'm about to drown.
I can't seem to fix what's wrong, I've been fighting hard for so long. Everything I had just slipped away,
And nobody cares enough to stay. Picking up the pieces of my shattered dreams, No one's around, or so it seems. When they do, it's just more pain, Like I'm caught in a never-ending rain.
I can't seem to fix what's wrong, I've been fighting hard for so long. Everything I had just slipped away, And nobody cares enough to stay.
Every day's a battle, searching for a sign, Lost in the darkness, no stars to align.
I cry out for help, but silence is all I find, Drowning in sorrow, trapped in my mind.
I can't seem to fix what's wrong, I've been fighting hard for so long.
Everything I had just slipped away, And nobody cares enough to stay.
Holding on tight, though my grip is weak, Hoping for a change, for the peace I seek.
But shadows grow longer, nights colder still, Will I ever find solace, will I ever heal?
I can't seem to fix what's wrong, I've been fighting hard for so long.
Everything I had just slipped away, And nobody cares enough to stay.
I keep hearing those voices in my head, Echoes of words that everyone has said.
The weight of the world is dragging me down, Feels like I'm fading, like I'm about to drown.

Drunken tears

Hitting the bottle wash away my sorrow

I know it won't make a brighter tomorrow Its ok to feel lost and alone Theres other ways to make your soul feel right at home Whisky and tears are my true escape But I know it wont wash away the pain My heart turned to stone, but talking to someone can make it all unfold

I seen the long tunnel of light But I feel it is not right though it shines so bright It can not erase my pain overnight I have to remember that I'm never alone I have spirits that are trying to keep me healthy and strong.I need to pull out of the darkness And make my life a better place So I can rise above the shadows of the night sober and straight

And I'll leave the darkness far behind and keep my head held high, for I know in the end my heart will forever shine. And I'll look back on these Drunken tears of just stories that can be shared. And when it ends I'll be feeling happy and whole all over again.

Eachos of emotions

In my world that feels like a movie reel, I'm an emotional wreck, hard trying to heal.

Lost in the chaos, searching for a real connection, Longing for authenticity, as i need much of a deeper affection.

My mind wanders, my body feels empty, Screaming for attention, but no one hears me. But I hear the noise, I'll find my way,

Keeping my legacy alive, come naturally my way in all the eachos of my own emotions driving me insane.

I'll take the real and the fake, Navigating this world, for my own damn sake. Buried hearts, protected and strong, Finding peace in the little things all along.

Eachos of heartache

In the quiet of the night, your memory seems to haunt my mind, It's like a shadow in the light, it's so hard to leave it behind.

Your prences still lingere , in the corners of my soul, And though you're with someone new, I can't seem to even let you go.

When you meditate i hear your voice whisper through the air, Every time I see your face, it's more than I can bear.

Lost in the memories, of what we used to be, Echoes of heartache, won't set me free. I see you with her now, and it tears my heart apart,

Trying to move on, but I'm lost within the dark. Each day is a battle, just to make it through, Wishing on a star, that I could forget you.

Echoes of heartache, whisper through the air, Every time I see your face, it's more than I can bear. Lost in the memories, of what we used to be, Echoes of heartache, won't set me free.

Maybe time will heal, the wounds that cut so deep, But for now, I'll hold on, to the promises we keep. One day I'll find the strength, to let you go for good,

But for now, these echoes, are the only thing that's understood.

Echoes of heartache, whisper through the air, Every time I see your face, it's more than I can bear. Lost in the memories, of what we used to be, Echoes of heartache, won't set me free. in the silence of my heart, your name is still a song, Echoes of heartache, where I belong.

Eachos of us

Walking down these empty streets, Memories of you, they haunt my sleep. Every step I take, I'm feeling lost, In this game of love, what's the cost?

You said we'd make it through the storm, But now I'm left here all alone. Tried to find the light in the dark,

But you left me with a broken heart. Your voice echoes in my mind, A melody that's hard to find.

I scream out loud, but no one hears, Drowning in my silent fears. You were my strength, my guiding star,

Now I'm reaching but you're too far. I'll rise above, won't let you win, This is where my new life begins.

You said we'd make it through the storm, But now I'm left here all alone. Tried to find the light in the dark, But you left me with a broken heart.

So I'll scream, I'll shout, I'll fight, Won't let you dim my shining light. With every step, I'll find my way, This is my anthem, hear me say.

Emotional

When you look into my eyes you'll see I am a mess and lost and scared and I can't seem to make it all just fucking disappear.

(I'm depressed.)

I need to find a better version of myself but its so hard With all the hate in this world.

Made a lot of mistakes I wish I knew how to erase might get distant and push everyone away.

I'm a wreck and in a valuable place and I don't know if I'll ever find my way.

I'm super stressed and I can't relax I can't shake all the heavey weight laying on my chest & the crazy thoughts going on inside my head.

I'm getting help but not working out so well

When I'm there I feel safe and secured when I am at my worst they lift my spirits up and I get all cozy and warm.

when I let go of the rope and get relased back into this crazy world I get lost and afraid and go right back into my depression fucking state.

They say time is a healer but I hope it moves along because I'm tired of feeling lost and alone

No one knows me well, sittin' on the edge of my seat Lookin' at life, overanalyzin' everything.

When I am at my lowest no one is around they all leave me hanging like a broken limb hanging from a tree branch no one is there to catch me when I fall but that's alright I'm fighting back maybe I'll break thru after all.

I apologize for all of the stress i put out

Just need to time to find myself and lift off the hurt and burden I feel inside my heart

And I know it hurts knowing that I carry this weight on my chest Making it difficult to reach out and connect.

I know everything will eventually be alright promise ill be changing I just need a little more time need everyone to be by my side and instead of leaving me so far behind

I will not stop finding my strength i will break thru these emotional chains ill find my peace again make all these feelings come to an end.

empty broken heart

you are not the person i thought u were nothing like I thought you would've ever been an yet i still love you the same now tell me if this is all a shame

*all though you break my heart You're the only one who catches my soul there's something that I feel I need to say but up till now I've always been so afraid You say you got the most respect for me But sometimes I feel your not deserving of me you're the only one I wish I could forget And even now while I hate you, it kills me to say that ill always be there for you anyway i try not to complain
'Cause I've been afraid that you will walk away an that will just bring so much more pain i don't want to walk around with a empty broken heart the reason i hate you is 'cause I can't erase The times that you hurt me and put tears on my face but i just cant seem to live without you babe i let you see the parts of me that weren't all that pretty an with every touch you fixed them you made me fell under your spell an this love that cant be denied so this is how i feel inside tell me what your heart is feeling an tell me if your staying or leaving ?
i hope you choose to stay with me cause i don't want to live without you babe i cant bare the thought of us being apart an i cant go on with a empty broken heart*

Envy on earth

You'll never make me feel so low or let my spirit soar, I won't let others bring me down, I'll show them the door they can follow There may be those who envy me and scheme there way through But I won't let them steal my hopes and dreams becoming Reality thats so true.

Shame on those consumed by envy and spite, their negativity can't dim my golden light. I'll stay humble while holding my own and embracing my worth, and letting my voice resound. Standing tall, conquering life on this hateful earth, we seems to adore

I won't let your words bring me any failure I'll rise above and live my best life that will always be remembered. With confidence and strength, I'll Show the world the person I know within my deepest heart and soul that was born to glow and be shown.

So come at me with your negativity, I'll take in as nicely as It can be i 'll bury it deep and let myself never become weak. I'll toss it back at you with proud attitude, with a force so strong, cause My words will always be true while they also will prove you wrong all along.

So go ahead and show your true self envy, let your words fly freely, But deeply know they won't ever fucking faze me, I'll keep being me. Cause i know Accusations may come, but I won't let them sting nor bring me any harm ill rise above it with confidence as they all come.

Fake/truth

They talk behind my back, say I'm too loud, Complain that I'm a storm cloud in their crowd. But they don't get it, they just can't see, The snakes in the grass, the phonies surrounding me.

I've seen the grins that hide the daggers, The sweet talk that turns into disaster. I'm not buying it, not even a bit, I see the venom dripping from their lip.

I taste the fake, it's bitter and cold, See through the lies, stories get old. You can know someone, but never know all, When the mask cracks, watch the bastards fall.

It's blind to your eyes, but clear as day to mine, I spot the frauds every damn time. It's all a charade, a carefully built lie, Games they play, but I see through their alibi.

I've seen the grins that hide the daggers, The sweet talk that turns into disaster. I'm not buying it, not even a bit, I see the venom dripping from their lip.

I taste the fake, it's bitter and cold, See through the lies, stories get old. You can know someone, but never know all, When the mask cracks, watch the bastards fall.

They try to blindside you 'til the bitter end, But I'm awake, and I refuse to bend. I'll stand my ground, speak my truth, Leave all the traitors in their youth.

I taste the fake, it's bitter and cold, See through the lies, stories get old. You can know someone, but never know all, When the mask cracks, watch the bastards fall.

Yeah, the rot seeps through, I see it all, it's nothing new. I'll keep it real, stay true And break free from all of you.

FALL COLORS

In the crisp autumn air, leaves dance and twirl, the Colors blaze, nature's vibrant swirl. The colors are a calling from angles above, To share all the colors of its love.

The scent of rain, a hint of pumpkin spice, As candles flicker, casting a warm, cozy night. October's arriving soon, a time of enchantment and delight, As the fall colors of love paint the world so bright ?

Halloween draws near, A magical time of the year that's filled with excitement and lots of wondrous cheers. Beneath the moon's glow, shadows come alive, Whispering secrets, as the night sky thrives.

Embrace the beauty of this wondrous season, Where nature's artistry knows its reason. Let the fall enchant you, with its captivating glowing grace, As we revel the all magic, in this beautiful autumnal embrace.

Finding me

In the depths of my soul, I search, Through the winding paths of my mind, I've Seeking the essence of who I am truly inside
In the quiet whispers, in the silent forest I've let go of all the heavy burdens.

Lost in the shadows, I strive to see reality
As a reflection of my truest self
In the echoes of time, in the depths of space, my journey on to find my own place.

Through trials and triumphs, I'll just roam,
In the quest to find my own space and home. With each step, with each plea, I'll unravel the mystery of focusing on finding me.

Leaving the past behind me, I'll soar, To find the me I've been searching for In the echoes of yesterday, in the shadows of time, I'll embrace the future, a path so divine.

With courage of my witches guiding light, I've conquered the darkest nights. In the symphony of life's grand song, I have found where I truly belong.

So let the sun and stars above me shine,
As I unravel this path of mine.
In the dance of time, in the cosmic sea, I have discovered the essence of finding myself within me.

Finishing line

She fought battles to push thru life since she was a child

Now that she's older she's still fighting her way no one ever told her life was this way

To her growing up it was no peaches n cream it was more of a badent n pain with no shoulder for her to lean

She was left with nothing but the clothes on her back n a box to crawl into in dark cold alleys. Every night

While living the streets drugs were passing thru she took them to ease all the hell shes been thru

Till one day she gave up she couldn't stand this life anymore she cut deep in her heartless soul an disaperead into the angels feathery arms n that was the finishing line of it all

Fire ? in my soul

My spirit fire burns so bright, Igniting my ways guiding me through the night. With every breath I take in the flames grow higher, Fueling my passion, and igniting all of my desires.

Through my darkest storms and toughest paths It sparks resilience, it fuels my drive, Empowering me to conquer it all and just thrive.

In moments of doubt, when shadows are drawn near the fire in my soul whispers, "Never fear." It reminds me of my strength that lies within me, A blazing inferno ready to begin anything.

With unwavering determination, I rise, Harnessing and cherishing the fire that burns in my eyes. It fuels my dreams, it fuels my goals, Igniting a firestorm within my wild soul.

Listen to your inner self and illuminate the wrongs that aren't guiding you through your life. Embrace your power, let it fuel your steps For within the fire is your soul, that will never fail you as you continue to grow.

Flames of reflection

I came home, dropped to my knees, feeling lost, Emotions swirling, a tangled web I can't escape from within. Longing for a simple change, a path to mend, But instead, I'm left blindsided, wondering without closure of end.

I've poured my heart, my all, into this fight,

Haunted by memories, scars that grip me up really tight .Alone, I sit in constint silence, days blend into one, And missing you even more, my soul feels undone.

Staring into candle flames, my tears and flaws are spun, The candle's light captures my crashing thoughts, one by one.

Reflecting the pain, the battles that I've fought, But in this darkness, a glimmer of hope is not showing, as I thought.

Just keep reminding myself that healing may be possible, despite my broken loss soul. The flames have become a reflection of everything I've intensively endured, taking its biggest toll.

Flicker of light

Cracked mirror stares, a soul worn thin, Another day lost, where do I begin? This world's a storm, tearing at the seams, Lost in the echo of broken dreams.

Each breath a fight, a silent scream,

a flicker of light.

Empty promises, like whispers in the rain, Washing away hope, leaving only pain. Aching inside, a hollow space, Lost in the maze of a fallen grace.

Each breath a fight, a silent scream, Haunted by shadows, nothing's as it seems. Heartbeat fading, in the dead of night, Just trying to find a flicker of light.

Is there a way out, a path to find? Or just keep running, leave it all behind? Each breath a fight, a silent scream,

a flicker of light.

Free again

You walk down the street

An who you chance to meet

Could be the dream you hoped for Till you remembered your to broke

From all the love affairs

An the lies an fights an long lonely nights

How can anyone move on from being broke hearted for so long

Its only you who can pick up the pieces an try to carry on being alone feels better then having to suffer anther bitter cruel love who shatters ever faith you kept in your heart has all been ripped apart

How can you ever heal yourself then want to feel that pain all over again

How could it be that what you want

Will always leave you feeling like a lost ghost in the woods

I am standing alone now an climbing up the ladder myself now your a candle an i am the flame n my ashes will never fall on your hands because I am free again fright

I have to drink myself to where i can not think so you wont cross my mind while im listen to the rain behind my fake smile to all my family and friends there is my wounded soul that may never ease from pain you wrecked who i used to be this sweet loving heart who wanted to just be happy but you made me fall apart you turned off my shining lights and put me in the dark my old self might come back but i wont ever know not until my revenge is on your own pathetic soul and i feel if i gain back full control of who i used to be before you forced all this evil into me that my light will come back on and all the fright you cause me will vanish out of me and make you suffer for all internally

Ghost in the mirror

In your mirror , a ghostly face appears, it's haunting presence, is a soul lost in fears.
Eyes filled with deep sorrow, searching for release ,A reflection of pain, lingering for inner peace.
The Whispers echo softly, secrets yet untold, A tale of longing, a story to unfold.
Through the looking glass, a glimpse of the past, Memories entwined, shadows that forever last.
The ghost in the mirror, a specter of the soul, Trapped in reflections, unable to console.
Reaching for connection, to break free from the glass, Seeking solace, in a world that seems to pass.

But as the moonlight fades, and dawn starts to break. The ghost retreats, a fading silhouette's awake.

Thier Leaving behind a long trace, a lingering mystery as The ghost in the mirror, forever a part of history

Give it time

Give it time, give it space, Eventually everything falls into place Lonely nights in your darkness hours
And morning lights time is your power.

Always have courage always be strong You'll get thru any wicked storm Keep your head high your heart real big You'll fight through it all with rage

You'll come on top, if you remain strong Your mind,body,soul will find its home Where there's full of laughter and full of love You need to stay focused and calm. Cause everything in life runs on time.

give me one good reason

You seem to give me many reasons to stay and then give me million reasons to run away i feel like i am hanging on the edge and my heart cant decide which way to take i cant bare not being with you yet anther side of me cant bare to see you i cant make up my own mind show me the way see past all the lies

you swore to me that my heart wont ache
then you turn around and hurt me anyway don't know how i feel about you and me cant decide what will be but i don't want to feel defeated
and you cant seem to give me what i needed
so just give me one good reason to not leave it should i keep bowing down to you and do what you ask me to would that make you feel like a better man by obeying all of your command's and keeping only you happy is the key and making me feel so incomplete can you give me a reason to stay but let me have a say try to convince me to believe that you will make me happy is that a promise you can keep just need one good reason to believe

then you turn around and hurt me anyway
i don't know how i feel about you and me cant decide what will be

Goodbye

You smile like you've won, but I see through your shit, Every sweet little lie, just fueling my fire bit by bit. You think I'm a fool, but I'm plotting my rise, With every betrayal, I'll sharpen my knives.

You're lurking in the shadows, but I'm coming for you,

Every scar that you gave me, I'll turn it to fuel. You thought you could break me, but I'm rising instead, Watch me take back my power, I'll leave you for dead.

Thought love was a fortress, but you turned it to hell, Now I'm burning your bridges, watch your empire fell.

You cheat and you lie, while I'm building my throne,

You created me a monster, you've unleashed inside my soul.

You're lurking in the shadows, but I'm coming for you, Every scar that you gave me, I'll turn it to fuel. You thought you could break me, but I'm rising instead, Watch me take back my power, I'll leave you for dead.

I'll gather my strength, I'll rise from the ground, No more your victim, I'm taking my crown.

You thought I was weak, but I'll show you my fight, I'll unleash my power, I'll burn down your night.

You're lurking in the shadows, but I'm coming for you, Every scar that you gave me, I'll turn it to fuel. You thought you could break me, but I'm rising instead, Watch me take back my power, I'll leave you for dead.

So here's my revenge, I'm taking my stand, You'll remember my name, as I crush your plans. I'll find my own light, I'll learn how to fly, You'll regret the day you let me say goodbye.

Goodbye forever

I'm a bit disappointed you let me down

I thought we had something special

Something different but it was clearly all wrong.

I thought I'll remind you of how pleasant it was to be with you..all the laughter and smiles you made it worth while until you let others win the battle.

Nobody ever says goodbye anymore

They just all disappear and never give you any good explanation to not talk anymore

I'm finished and done asking why

That our friendship is over I'll just sit back and heal the sadness and burden of saying goodbye forever.

Grieving

In my deepest moments I bury my burden pushed back so hard that I've broken down and fallen I'm Grieving thru the truma and drowning thru the rough waters.
I cry to the lord but he doesn't answer
I cry out for help but no one hears I'm grieving thru traumatizing events
An no one will understand

I fight a lot of battles that only I know Deep down I have so much rage I can't let go i Hate to admit I'm sinking my own ship Second time around I can't stand on my own ground...

Living in fear of my own thoughts
I am warmhearted and icy cold to the touch with a pretty face that's getting old.
struggle thru life feeling lost and alone I bury a lot of secrets I leave untold with a heart of glass, that can be easily shattered to death!

Harsh truths

You walked back through that door, same old story, same old lies, Said you'd change, but I'm not seeing it, can't you see through my eyes?

You point fingers, say I'm rushing, but I'm just trying to be real, You left me for another, now you want me to fully heal.

You think I'm worried about you, but I've given up that fight, I'm done with all the games, I'm done with sleepless nights.

You left me broken, now you want to mend, But I'm not the same, and this is where it ends.

You say you want it slow, but your actions speak so loud, You left me in the dark, now you want me to be proud.

I'm not here to play your games, not here to be your fool, If you can't see the change in me, then you're the one who's cruel.

You think I'm worried about you, but I've given up that fight, I'm done with all the games, I'm done with sleepless nights.

Harsh truths and broken dreams, that's all you've left behind, You say you've changed, but you're still the same, love's made me blind. No moving along, 'cause I don't want this new start to end,

My final call, I'm back on track, finding my way again. You think I'm worried about you, but I've given up that fight, I'm done with all the games, I'm done with sleepless nights.

You left me broken, now you want to mend, But I'm not the same, and this is where it ends.

Haunted

Haunted houses have hidden names written on the walls behind that name, its a story that was never told

They haunt it because there was no justice for their suffering pain an haunting is there only sweet revenge

They rage against their dying light

With every bite of dark cloud they pass thru every night

Its sad to over come what others ignored the help they were seeking would have kept them still breathing strong

They fought battles for their story to be heard with every blink of thier lifeless eyes they cant gasp the world being this cold

They will haunt everyone who ignores until some one comes along to hear their story so they can seek the justice they deserve

Heart speaks

In my own silence of the night, my heart feels so cold, Memories of us, stories left untold. Loneliness surrounds me, shadows in my mind, In the echoes of our love, no peace can I find.

These Tears fall like rain, silent and unseen, A broken heart, where once joy had been. Yet in this darkness, a glimmer of light, A strength within me, ready to fight.

Wandering through the days, lost in a haze,

Searching for the hope, in this endless crazy maze. The pain is deep, but I know I'll survive, Through the storm, I'll learn to thrive

Tears fall like rain, silent and unseen,
A broken heart, where once joy had been.
Yet in this darkness, a glimmer of light,
A strength within me, she's ready to fight.

For though the nights are long, and the days are tough, I'll keep holding on, when the road is really rough. My scars will fade, my heart will mend, And in this journey, new beginnings will blend.

A broken heart, where once joy had been.
Yet in this darkness, a glimmer of light, A strength within me, I'm ready to fight.

So I'll rise from the ashes, stronger than before, With every step I take, I'll heal a little more. In the end, I'll find, the peace I seek, In the dark whispers of the night, my heart speaks!

Honor

In fields of green, where heroes sleep, A silent vigil, we softly keep.
For souls departed, and battles won,
Their memory shines, like the morning sun.

"A mournful cry, from hearts so deep,
For heroes in their endless sleep.
Though tears may fall, a bond remains,
Our souls connected, grief sustains."

To living veterans, scarred and bold,
Your stories whispered, never grow old.
In every sunrise, a chance to mend,
A grateful nation, until the end.

We raise our voices, a somber sound,
For those who stood, on sacred ground.
Though tears may fall, our spirits soar,
In honor of those, near and far

From fields of battle, to peaceful shore,
Your legacy lives, forevermore.
With every heartbeat, a promise made,
Their sacrifice, will never fade.

We raise our voices, a somber sound,
For those who stood, on sacred ground.
Though tears may fall, our spirits soar,
In honor of those, near and far

So let us sing, heart to heart

For fallen heroes, near and far Their spirit lives, in you and me,
A piece of hope, for all to see.

Hurt

hurt is a burden that we all bear It's heavy weight that's always there,
A deep wound that you feel
And a scare that never heals
A deep memory that never fades It's pain that lingers while you age
Let your hurt guide you And your heart be the light
For all the darkness of your pain You'll find the strength to move your mountains again.

I cry behind my shades

"I cry behind my shades, where pain remains unseen, Hiding all my emotions, so burdens aren't ever foreseen.
My Silent tears I shed, from every sense of gaze, Protecting others, for my burden is mine to just embrace.
But in the solace of my car, I find my soul's release,
As my wheels spin on the pavement, my heart finds its peace.
Long drives become my fuse, where tears are set free The open road is where I can truly be me.
I take these long drives to let out all my cries, Sometimes it seems the only way to clear my heart and mind And free me from all the negativity I bury deep inside.
Behind my wheel, I find my power, as tears flow from my eyes, The road becomes my confidant, as I release my hidden cries.
With each mile, my heart and mind find all my worries just subsides, Long drives, are my therapy, where buried pain finally resides."
I cry behind my shades to gain my own insanity back into place the open road become my only secured place where all my burdens are lifted freely into space.

I'll find my way

In the stillness of the night I find myself lost in thoughts Contemplating all that's right
And all the battles I've fought But though the darkness may be deep And the path ahead is so unclear
I know I can always keep moving forward without any fear.
All though my road may twist and turn
And my journey may be long
I know I'll always learn and find my way where I belong.

In this moment

I remember the days when we were strong, Riding down backroads, singing our song. But somewhere along the way, we lost track, Now you're here, saying you want me back.

In the silence, shadows whisper lies, I see your face, but it's a thin disguise. You left me broken, now you're here again, But this time, I won't play pretend.

Baby, why'd you want me, tell me why, You're back again, but I need to know why. Prove it to me, In this moment, reveal the truth.

Every promise you made turned to dust, Every word you said, I couldn't trust. Now you stand before me, heart in hand, But can you be the man you once planned?

Baby, why'd you want me, tell me why, You're back again, but I need to know why. Prove it to me, In this moment, reveal the truth.

All the nights I cried, all the dreams that died, Now you're here, and I can't decide. Should I let you in, take a chance again, Or walk away, and let this end?

Baby, why'd you want me, tell me why, You're back again, but I need to know why. Prove it to me, In this moment, reveal the truth.

Tell me why, tell me why, In this moment, reveal the truth,

Keep believing

I have faith in life I believe in the higher power
I believe you set your mind to anything it will conquer Everything

If you keep feeling lost and alone or, you feel you can't do the things that seem impossible !
Well your wrong !

Life is too short to worry or to give up your dreams to give up what you were born to be Worlds too small and people are too ashamed to come down on all the fame you have become Keep pushing and believing and trust the lord by your side without him and without your beliefs and negativity You will become, powerless and weak

Think positive think smart think with all your heart and you'll be standing like you're on top of this world!

Key to my heart

*Im fighting so hard to keep you near But im getting so strong to just leave you here Im trying so hard to give you happiness
But you keep bringing me pain & sadness
I don't know what else to do Sick & tired of trying to please you You always say I think of myself Funny thing is i never think of myself Because you make it so hard to think Of anything else.
You think I have it so good with you Im sorry but that's not true Its time to take a step back to think Of myself just for a sec Find a happy place that will be my key to get Out of this chain n feel free once again.
Your not the key to my heart
We are better off apart.*

Letting go

Letting go was my only choice, To save myself from inner noise. Memories burned, past is gone Im Moving forward, with a new dawn

You can see me now, the truth is clear, No more dwelling on the pain and fear Sacrifices have been made, lessons have been learned, From the ashes, new paths I have earned.

I hope you've healed and your flames have danced, In their warmth, you've found your only chance.
By Embracing change, with open eyes, and Moving on beneath the beautiful skies

Letting you in

I can't let you in again, you ripped my soul apart, Left me shattered, broken, with a bleeding heart.
You got lost somewhere else, left me in the dark, No way to replace the pain, no way to restart.

You fucked up my mind with all the games you played, Left me in ruins, in the mess you made. I won't let you in, not gonna fall again, This is my anthem, my final stand.

You twisted the knife, left scars I can't erase, Haunted by your shadow, can't escape this place. You tore me down, but now I rise, From the ashes of your lies, I'll claim the skies.

won't let you in, not gonna fall again, This is my anthem, my final stand.

Screaming out the pain, in every chord I play, Guitar strings cry, but I won't fade away. With every note, I reclaim my soul,

Rocking hard, I'm taking back control.

won't let you in, not gonna fall again, This is my anthem, my final stand.

I can't let you in, no, never again, This is my story, this is where it ends. With every beat, I find my way, Hardcore and free, I'll live another day.

Life to live

I prefer to leave my demons behind They won't haunt me no more and my angel got lost searching for her source

In the static of voices in my mind, I can't seem to stop the screaming inside. The rage i build up overtime wont let me eescape any of its ties.

I feel like im still drowning in its noise, But through the loudness I'll rise and find my own poise.

I then Freefall into grace, breaking through the chains, I promise im not going insane, it's just time to silence all the toxic strains.

My scars keep me going its like a testament to my own fight, I have lived through the dramatic emerged but ive noticed i stand stronger in the light.

My gut and my anger it drives me like an anchor, I won't let it sink me but I'll rise and conquer it all it don't have a chance to make me fall.

Fuck to all the chaos, yearning for tranquility's paths Within my mind's static, concealment is futile, and fragile This raging tempest, relentless, I'll rise with a big smile. And stop the clamor's assault, drowning in its noise and feeding it more power.

Yet I'll regain my poise My inner fire, an anchor, propels me in full Defying its power I'll rise and conquer, staying humble and true.

Ill be Defeating all my demons, and seeking solace through the storms while My secret angel adrift, searching for a new reform.

Falling into grace, breaking chains in the light, Instincts anchor, and abyss won't consume enough in time. I'll rise and find my strength in any fight that will come my way and keep rebuilding a new path that's only for my life to live.

love & hate

he put me through hell an i called it love sometimes i want to throw him off a cliff and sometimes i want to catch him when he falls i cant decide which way to go leave or stay which road should i take if i stay i get abused not only mentally but verbally to if i leave ill throw everything away the home i worked hard for an the pet family i created to stay im lost in this big world loosing myself i cant shake this pain in my heart and soul

i loved him since i was young the love will always remain strong praying to the lord above asking for help but no answers where yet Answered and my situations was not yet resolved this relationship is not easy on both parts to hard of decision to make myself i need a hand to lift my spirit up this is a love and hate i cant stand to give into this love and hate i have to give up but i don't know how to im scared to loose everything i worked hard to keep i worked hard for all this an it all turned into a love and and hate i didn't want to create

Love and friendships

Some people are like branches on a tree,
They look strong, but thier really weak
They swing and bend with every breeze,
And they'll fool you to trust and believe

Others are like the leaves that stay, They'll never break your trust or leave you hang They'll stay with you through thick and thin,And they'll always be a good friend.

But then there's love, like roots that grow, Deep down beneath the earth below,
It holds us steady through the years,
And wipes away all of our doubts and fears

Some people are like the wind that blows,
They come and go, nobody knows,
They leave us feeling lost and alone,
And leave our hearts like broken bones

Others are like a one night stand, They're here and gone, like shifting sand,
They leave us feeling used and hurt,
And we wish we'd never had that flirt.

But then there's love again that is steady like a flame That burns within us, but are never the same,And it fills our hearts with warmth and light,And guides us through the darkest night.

There's people that claim they are inlove but before you know They play with hearts and cause us pain,And leave us feeling hurt and drained.They hide away and play their games, And leave us feeling so ashamed,

If you have a few good loyal friends that are your root,And planted deep to stay, then you're blessed in every single way As those are the kind of friends that are here to stay A tree can have a million branches, But it's the roots that keep it grounded like glue its your foundation of life you surround yourself in through and through.

If you find some roots that keep you grounded and strong, Hold onto them tight and strong and nothing will go wrong,

Let the others go on and find their own way,

For true friends are the ones that are here to stay.

If you find your people who truly care,

Keep them rooted in your tree, they're rare,

Let the fake ones go, they're not worth your time, True friends are the ones that make life feel alive

Magic

In my every witching hour Day and even night I'll embrace the power with all my might

The trees have been whispering secrets in my ears
The wind has been blowing spells far and near.

My earth pulses with ancient power
And I am the one with every flower.

As I light a sprital candle, I feel the energy I call Upon the godddess and gods And feel their presence near me

I dance with the wolves with joy beneath the sky I feel the spirits all passing by. I know that I am not alone, and that the magic is all my own.

So in my witching hours
I will share my power
And know I am the one with all
And my magic will never fall

Moonlight drive ? ?

Under the moonlight, we tear through the night, Engines roaring, metal hearts ignitea Danger whispers, but we feel so alive, On this moonlit drive, we're gonna thrive

Moonlight drive, through the dark and deep, Where shadows lie, and secrets creep. With every turn, our demons soar,

On this moonlight drive, we crave for more. Roaring engines, wind ripping through our hair, No destination, just the thrill we dare.

Stars above us, blazing our trail, In this moonlit drive, we'll never fail. Moonlight drive, through the dark and deep, Where shadows lie, and secrets creep.

With every turn, our demons soar, On this moonlight drive, we crave for more.

in the dead of night, we hear the call, A wild echo, where shadows fall. With every mile, our fears collide, On this moonlit drive, we dare ride.

Moonlight drive, through the dark and deep, Where shadows lie, and secrets creep. With every turn, our demons soar, On this moonlight drive, we crave for more.

As dawn breaks, we greet the light, But in our bloody veins, the moon's still bright. Forever burned, in the stories we weave, On this moonlit drive, we believe

Moving forward

In this life, I was a God child, lost in time's that have come. Encountering those who thought they held life's grace.

But their words were all lies, a cruel damn disguise, Forcing me to defend, learn, and rise.

Alone I've stood, navigating life's unknown,

Discovering the strength within, now clearly has been shown. I've learned to appreciate life's precious dance, and To cherish every moment to take a risky chance.

I'd rather be lonely than sacrifice my truth,

No longer bound by the chains of my youth. The demons within, they've become a part of me But I'll fight to keep them buried, deep in my mountain I withhold in front of me.

No one will have power over me anymore

I've reclaimed my strength, forever set free. Though my feelings may seem numb, it's just a secret phase, A shield I've built, protecting my life's lost maze.

So I will keep pushing forward, I'll never give in, I have the power to feel, to heal, to always win this is my new journey, I let my spirit soar, For my resilient to never again be ignored

My journey

On my endless journey
I want to find peace
But with every step
And down every path
Your paying a hefty fee

I want to embrace all the unknowns Where possibilities bloom
And overthrown
With vibrant colors and dreams unseen Risking each step feeling wild and free

Building my courage as I guide That's my compass buried deep inside I'll keep venturing far and wide
As i keep discovering the world With my own two eyes

In my journey I'll break these chains
With no price to pay just freedom rings
With every turn, that comes my way I'll find value in every breathe I take In Risking each step, feeling wild and free,Its all worthy only to me Breaking chains, without having to pay is the only value key that will lead the way

So on my journey, there's no fee to release
I'll just find my place in seeking peace,
With vibrant dreams,
I overthrow with gloom

And that's my place Ill make a Home.

My life

I know I've been so selfish
But you dont know my life
I've watch it go up in flames
And walk around like it's alright
And no one ever gave a damn
But yet I still hold my head high And cry in silent every single night

I live in a world full of hate and pain
So my trust and mind went insane
I can't help who they force me to become I try so hard to change my whole outcome
You can say there is no excuses how I am But I've been living my life on a thread Living in my own world that I created in my head that's the only place I became comfortable in.
I try to pull myself out of this darkness
But I have some traumas that trap me And hurtful memories I can't escape from That I seem to hold on to And I am not ready to rebuild a whole new chapter untill I can control a world I don't know I'm waken up to.
I have some insecurities I haven't even dealt with I got some more demons I need to put to rest so when I die my soul can rest.

My love

My love for you has grown like a rose That grows with every passing day It's Beauty fills my heart and you take my breath away.

Your kindness and gentle touch Have healed me in many way's
You have brought me peace and happiness And brightend up all my day's

Your love and arms have been my shelter
And a safe haven in the storms of life
You have stood beside me all this time and helped me thru every fighting strike.

I thank the Universe for bringing us together And I'll cherish every moment of this love that I hope will last forever.

My Mother's love

Mama, I'm sorry that I scared you Just know that your prayers, are not in vain but they flew through me. I am Proud of where I came from, I'll always be, Your love and fear, they have always rescued me.

That night when i was half-dead from alcoholism Your love have kept the darkness away. and hearing your voice and feeling your pain woke me up and i lived. so Let's always capture our journey, strong and true, let our strength celebrate the bond between me and you.

Your prayers they are my guide, Through day and night you stood by my side. With love you saved me and kept me alive. I testament to the power of a mother's love, and I thank you. I'm sorry for all the scared i brought upon you.

Always know that your love and fear, will always shown me the way. when I am lost and low even till this day Thinking of what you taught me Has helped me grow in every way. Your love mom has always guided me through my darkest days A mother's love really does always grow and stays.

Your love mom is my lifeline it pulls me back from every ledge. With each beat of your heart you ease all the pain and dread upon me and together we thrive and face every darkness that awakens you and I and together we will always have a mother & daughter bond.

My new empire

In this world where my trust was torn, And every bond seemed to be well worned. I stood amidst the wreckage, strong and tall Rebuilding my empire, rising from a long hard fall.

No more will I let them take what's mine, Protecting my sanctuary, drawing the line. For every loss has made me very wise, I guard my personal space, where my living spirit lies.

I stand my ground ,rooted in my own domain A fortress of strength, free from every disdain. Though these scars may linger and show my resilience will still shine & glow.

I've learned to rebuild, piece by piece, line by line. So ill let them come. but not too close, For I've learned to guard what matters most. In my new empire, I find solace and rest A sanctuary where I am truly blessed.

Nature

Nature is beautiful, it's a world full of peace
A place to go to set all your worries free
The sunshine is bright, the trees stand tall,
The waterfalls roar, misting the air for all .

Mother Nature is a gift to us
A place to find peace and stand tall.
So take a deep breath and let it out slow, Enjoy our gift that's free to us all.

Nature healing

In the heart of Pennsylvania, where the rivers gently flow, i hear Whispers of the water, that secrets only nature knows Beneath the canopy of greens, where sunlight softly gleams, A tranquil stream meanders, weaving through all of our dreams.

Its waters cool and clear, a mirror to the sky, Reflecting all the beauty as the moments pass us by.
With every gentle ripple, it washes woes away, A symphony of solace at the close of every day.

The stones beneath the surface, worn smooth by time and tide, Tell tales of ancient journeys, of rivers far and wide.
And as we stand in silence, feeling earth beneath our feet, We find a sense of balance, where the wild and human meet.

When the world feels heavy, and burdens hard to bear, Seek out the flowing rivers, find your peace and energy there.
In the dance of water, with its ever-changing song, We reconnect with nature, healing us, and leading us where we belong.

Never lied

I never lied, that's the truth I hold My honesty shines, more valuable than gold. But sometimes, my friend, it's hard to see The real me hidden beneath all this rare mystery.

I apologize if I seemed distant or disguised, I want you to know, it's not my intention to hide. In this vast world, we all wear different faces, But deep down, my heart's filled with genuine embraces.

I value our connection, and I'm here to understand, To see through your eyes and lend a helping hand. Together, let's break through any walls or disguise, And embrace the beauty that lies beneath our dreamy eyes.

New leaf

In my soul, our love's flame did ignite,
But all of your actions, have caused tears with endless nights through my heartache, I've held onto hope,
That you'll see the pain you've caused me and then help me cope.

my love, please just hear my plea and Stop making my heart bleed if you don't want me just set my spirit free. For in your hands, lies the power to heal,
To mend our wounds, to make our love feel real.
Let kindness guide you, let empathy bloom, In the choices you make, it will all gloom. For our love is a gift, its not meant to be torn, But cherished and nurtured, like a rose and a thorn.

I need to know if you stand with me, to plant a new seed and start a new leaf with memories. To mend our broken hearts and start fresh and leave behind those who are against us.

Remember we deserve love that's true,
A love that uplifts and cherishes us
If you can't see our worth, it's time to let go, For a heart that breaks us is not meant to grow.

OUR FLAG

Our flag we fly High it soars with pride It symbols our troops with courageous fight.
With every stitch and every fold it represents all the bravery and bold.
Red white, and blue fly high in the skies With love and joy we all stand by Supporting our troops in all they do Untied we are, strong and true In this world, we proudly stand. Untied as one, hand in hand.
With gratitude we honor all who serve. With courage and sacrifice, we preserve.
Thier bravery shines, like a guiding star Protecting our nation, near and far With heartfelt thanks. We pay our respect Our gratitude will always reflect.
Together We stand, untied and strong Thier service and legacy that carries on In the land that's brave, the home of the free We salute our heroes for all eternity.

Painful truth

They say truth will set you free, But does it really, in all reality? Every spoken truth, unseen bruises it leaves, Yet my pain lingers, refusing to fucking ease.

In this journey of self-discovery, I'm still not alone, Finding my place, where I truly belong. Though disconnected at times, from mind and reality, I trust in my abilities, in my own virtual vitality

So I try hard to rise above the pain, like a rage phoenix in flight Creating a world that needs to feel normal and right.

With each step forward, I embrace the unknown For in this new journey, my true self is forced to always be shown.

Part of my heart

I never felt so close to someone

As much as I do when im with you

Even when we have a fight or two my heart still melts for you!

I was in a lot of relationships

But this one has always felt so Different

I never been able,to say I love you

An have it really,mean something

You an i can say such harsh things n im the one that can still sit next to you an love you the same

I never loved an cared so much n still felt like there was alot to discover

So in my heart n soul even if we grow apart you'll always be a big part of my heart in my eyes even if its in just mine

you'll always be my love my rock an my world for as long as I am alive

Players game

I'm not that women who can be played with I'm not that women you can take home
And think you scored Then don't bother with anymore.
You can't break my heart it's already been destroyed.
Because my supposedly one and only Done that twice before I'm not an easy person to get I'll win any game you deal I've played the players deck And I have not lost one yet.
If you think you have me wrapped around your finger just imagine what I have wrapped around mine...you have no idea what I've got I'm not like them other women you've had up front....
I'm not the one you should be playing against.I know all players games
I would think before you act on your little shit...because in the end I'll be the one who wins it.?

Promised shattered

I know You were there, showed you cared, but you also made me believe you were different, from them all.

In the beginning, it was great i never felt a love like this. Missing those happy times with you, but sadly you broken me in two.

Your words and actions, caused confusion and hurt, my mind went in smothered mode I have lost all possible hope.

You poisoned me with your charms, then lied to my face, Making me think I'm the one that's wrong in this place.

in a flash now Your words and deceit got caught in others' eyes, Leaving me questioning everything, feeling trapped and paralyzed.

I feel ashamed of myself that I Believed in you with Every word spoken, should've been untamed in the first place before you even approached me.

you were Broken like me, but we couldn't find our way, Promises shattered, trust led astray .But I'll heal, find strength deep within, Love and trust anew, let the mending begin again.

Protecting you

After what we gone through How could you bounce like that That was such a silent move
You played me for a fool

You left me for a new love
Baby I thought ours was real enough
You left so heart broken
I can't see me moving on

People keep asking
I'm still here standing
Telling them you mean well
And that you're fixing yourself
Why am I still protecting you
When you never noticed me at all

Every night I lie awake Thinking 'bout the love we made How did it turn so cold
When did we lose control

You said you'd always be there But now I'm left in despair Your promises were empty Now I'm trying to break free

Baby, I thought ours was real enough

Telling them you mean well
And that you're fixing yourself
Why am I still protecting you
When you never noticed me at all

I'm finding strength in the silence Picking up the pieces you left behind No more tears, no more violence
I'm reclaiming what is all mine

Baby, I thought ours was real enough
I can't see me moving on

People keep asking
Telling them you mean well
And that you're fixing yourself
Why am I still protecting you
When you never noticed me at all

Rage reclaimed

In the battlefield of love, we took our stand, You were the soldier, I was the band, Left me wounded, scars so deep, Now you're back, but my heart won't weep.

I'll be the bomb, you'll be the match, In this war of hearts, no strings attached, We'll set the night on fire, in this endless fight, Love's a battlefield, but I'll stand tonight.

You think you can use me, like a toy, But I'm a warrior, not your ploy, With every strum, I'll tell my tale, In this rock anthem, I will prevail.

In the chaos of our love, I found my voice, In the wreckage, I made my choice, To rise above, to stand and fight, In this war of hearts, I'll claim my right.

I'll be the bomb, you'll be the match, In this war of hearts, no strings attached, We'll set the night on fire, in this endless fight, Love's a battlefield, but I'll stand tonight.

As the final notes fade, and silence falls, In the echoes of our song, my rage calls I'll keep playing, through pain and fight In this rock ballad, I'll reclaim my life.

Rebuilding

You may talk bad on me

You also may write me down in history

With your bitterness twisted lies

You may trod me in stone but still like dust I'll always rise Your abuse failed to penetrate. It just made me strong..

i am rebuilding my empire an you can't hurt me anymore.

Respect

You ever walk down the city streets

An see a man singing songs with his guitar?

Hes out there trying to earn a penny

The can beside him is empty

So toss him a dime an tell him good luck

You can judge a book by its cover so why judge a person. By their looks

Hes working hard just as us to earn that buck

Hold a strangers hand an sing along

Bring this world more happy thoughts

Stand beside good hearts an be bless you are strong to be respectful to bring joy to homeless people

Rising from ashes

You think I didn't know but I know you keep hurting me
It never bothered you, crushed my heart beneath your feet
Tuck them away while you're skipping out the door Every time I tried, you just let me be

Every tear I shed, you just walk away
Thought you'd feel my pain, but you're okay
I'm stuck in this cycle, can't break free
But I'll rise from the ashes, just wait and see

Late nights driving down these empty roads Memories of us, they come and go Your laughter echoes, but it feels so cold I'm left here wondering, where did we go wrong?

Every tear I shed, you just walk away
Thought you'd feel my pain, but you're okay

You left me shattered, broken on the ground
But I found my strength, I turned it all around No more waiting, no more tears to cry
I'm moving on, leaving you behind

The song's over, but the whisky don't lie
I chase it down, I have to numb the pain Drowning it away, under the midnight sky
But I'll find my way, through the pouring rain
Every tear I shed, you just walk away
Thought you'd feel my pain, but you're okay
But I'll rise from the ashes, just wait and see

You think I didn't know but I know you keep hurting me
It never bothered you, crushed my heart beneath your feet
Tuck them away while you're skipping out the door
But now I'm free, I won't hurt anymore
I found my strength, I turned it all around
No longer broken, I'm standing on solid ground
The pain has faded, the scars have healed
A new chapter begins, my fate is sealed I'm stronger now, you won't break me again
I've risen from the ashes, this is the end Goodbye to the past, I'm moving on A brighter future awaits, my pain is gone Every tear I shed, you just walked away
But now I'm free, and I'm okay
I've broken the cycle, I've found my peace
From the ashes I've risen, I'm finally released

Hope you like the complete song! ive worked hard on these lyrics ! Enjoy everyone ! ?

Rivers of the mind

In my mind, I'm lost, like a river flowing free, Thoughts swirling, spinning, like waves upon the open sea. But in between the chaos, there's a steady pace of peace, as Rivers of the mind, where thoughts and dreams become release."

Within my heart, emotions surge, like a river's mighty powerful roar, As my Love and pain intertwine, like waves crashing on the shores Yet within this tumultuous ride, a sense of calm persists, Rivers of the heart, where joy and longing start to coexist.

within my soul, dreams take flight, like a river's gentle breeze, and Whispering hopes and aspirations, like leaves rustling in all the trees. And as i start navigating life's twists and turns, i am guided by all the Rivers of the soul, where endless possibilities will eventually all want to glow."

And as the river of life carries me on its gentle tide, I find all my strength, in its ever-changing strong strides. For in the depths of these rivers, I discover my truest self, A journey of love, growth, and wisdom, where dreams will find its own personal wealth.

Rock bottom

Some people may think it's strange, But rock bottom is where I feel comfortable, in range. It's where I can be myself, with no pretense, And not worry about anyone's offense. I know it's not the healthiest of places to be, But it's where I feel most like me.

I don't want jealousy and hate, I want to live life that's in my own fate. I want to wake up with a smile, And go to bed with ease I want to surround myself with positive traits And do things that make me feel alive and safe

Some people may not understand me But I find comfort in being alone, At rock bottom, I feel like it's home Where I can be myself and do as I please. I don't need anyone to tell me how to feel, Or cause me misery that's all too real.

I know that I'm unique, one of a kind but I don't need Someone who can't understand me, inside and out or someone who I can't trust and never have to doubt.

It's not easy to find that one person indeed, But I'm hopeful that someday they will take the lead. Until then, I'll focus on taking care of me, And doing things that make me happy and carefree. At rock bottom is where I feel peace.

Rose peddle

every night I smelt the roses you gave to me I cherished every leaf on them now I cherish every Peddle that crumbles an falls Back then I thought our true love would never end Now its shattered glass so thin to walk on I hated the pain you caused my heart
Now as I sit here alone an stare at the roses it makes me go insane knowing your gone
But then again its so sweet to know you faded away like a shadow in the wind
An no more pain causing my heart to bleed but you created my soul to stay in the dark
An that's alright as long as were apart ill sit on my swing with a nice little smirk

saying goodbye

if i say goodbye i will cry but i wont miss the lies and abuse that you cause my heart to break into there's no more strings upon this love its been ripped apart so long ago you cant treat me right you cant treat me good you dont treat me like a real man should you were always the one in my eyes even from the start but in yours i am nothing at all but im no fool anymore an you cant break my heart no more saying goodbye will be the best thing a women can do but its the hardest thing for a women to bare for a foolish love of a man who made her believe all these years that he cared an the best thing is to leave it all behind is that its anther mans treasure to adore to treat a real women with respect an love what a real good women deserves

Shackles & chains

In a world consumed by greed's embrace, Love struggles, bound by shackles in my space. But through your words, break free from despair, Unleash love's power, and show who you truly are.

As our world's power is all weakening, As it lies take hold, truth is shrinking. But with your honesty and light, You can restore loyal and respect back to life Together let's rise above the darkness, With compassion and kindness, let's harness. Break free from the chains that hold us down, And create a world where love can be bound.

In a world where power's grip is strong, Truth and justice seem to be wrong. But with your light and honesty, We'll break the shackles that pinned us down.

Together, we'll rise above the night, With compassion and love, shining bright. Breaking the chains that hold us tight, Creating a world where love takes flight.

So let's spread your light, far and wide, Mending our broken world side by side. Through every word and every refrain, Love's power will break free from these shackles and chains.

SHAMAN'S ??

Beneath the veil, where spirits roam,
A hidden truth, calling him home.
While others seek, the mundane light,
I offer depths, of endless night.

Shaman's heart, forever bound,
To mysteries deep, profound.
He'll lose himself, in every line,
A haunting echo, forever entwined.

Ancient wisdom, whispers low,
Through realms unseen, where shadows grow. He'll feel the pull, of hidden lore, A love that haunts, forevermore.

Shaman's heart, forever bound,
To mysteries deep, profound.
He'll lose himself, in every line,
A haunting echo, forever entwined.

Mixing earth, with cosmic fire, Igniting passion, and deep desire.
A sacred dance, a mystic trance, A love that time, cannot enhance.

Shaman's heart, forever bound,
To mysteries deep, profound.
He'll lose himself, in every line,
A haunting echo, forever entwined.

No turning back, the path is clear,
In every note, his soul is near.
So let the rhythm, take its hold,
A shaman's love, a story told.

So long

So confused bout us

Your love lifted me up

N then threw me off

So I ran n got lost in a crowd

Became a piece of shadow on the ground with no tears running down

You brought me down

Treated me all wrong

Made me open my heart

With all your charms

But Im still standing here

Strong

But I have to say that I been

To the top and

I been to the bottom

So I can handle any problem's

Im strong enough to overcome them all on my own

I won't need any helping hand at all so used to all this shit that all my pain n feelings became numb

So I am done with you an the rest of them

I don't need anyone to love

Its all just a waste of time

Your better off on your own

Your free from the hassle that comes along n I am good at goodbyes so all I have to say is so long !!

Sorrows embrace

In depths of our deepest sorrow's

Where dreams fade and shadows don't follow We still navigate, paying the unimaginable price, and Conquering seems impossible, as our hope becomes unstoppable.

As we Open our eyes to the sun's rising light, it's the only symbol of comfort, warming our damaged hearts and lives. Together, we'll face challenges and swim through the rough waters, finding strength in our hearts to overcome all the battles.

Our Radiant Light, shining through the clouds, Guiding us stright forward with courage followed we find refuge and grace and a testament to resilience, in every step we fight to take and where dreams do fade, And shadows cast their daunting shades.

Behold the unyielding light, a fantasy in the gloom, sure is guiding us through darkness, dispelling all that went doomed. And in our Nature's embrace, a sanctuary we find. we Extending helping hands in a tumultuous world so unkind

With our open eyes, we all witness the sun's resplendent light. A symbol of hope and renewal, painting the skies so bright. Together, we confront our challenges, with turbulent tides, Rising as undamaged and our strength will always keep on standing.

For all to see our world torn apart, we try to heal all broken hearts With powerful words as our guide, we'll find our way and Together we will rise, rebuilding a peaceful world that we'll forever see in our own eyes.

Sunshine happiness

As I sit quietly in the woods
And the sun light shines bright
I see and hear all nature in sight
I feel a warmth inside my heart
And all my troubles just fall apart
The world around me seems so dark But here in the forest I find my spark I feel at peace. This place is my light I'll embrace its charm So warm and bright
So when life gets tough and I feel so low Sunshine happiness is the way to go I let the sun and nature fill my soul,
And i feel all my worries and fears let go
When the sun shines bright through the trees
And the forest ground is coverd with ease
I hear the birds chirping songs Makes me feel happy and calm
So when I feel heavy and gray
I come to the forest to fade away And i breath in my happiness all the way I make my own world a happy place.

tell me something my heart tells me to stop but i am waiting for nothing you're blind to your mistakes and my regrets are just something that you tell yourself are enough to know who was right but boy, your ignorance is just an unforgivable sight perhaps you should open up that breadth-less mind and unravel the truths i know you're holding inside deep down beneath the fortress i call you're ego ans tell me something a little something i dont know.....

Temporary love

our roses, dead and rotting, crumble at my feet, You torched my soul, now I rise from the heat. You had my heart in chains, but now I'm breaking free, Your memory's burning, and it's my victory.

Temporary love, it cuts like a knife,
Played your games, but I'm taking back my life. Temporary love, you left me to bleed,
But now I'm stronger, and it's you I don't need.

You whispered lies, wrapped me in deceit,
But now I'm standing strong, no more defeat. Thought you'd break me, but I'm still here, Rising higher, breathing fire, loud and clear.

Temporary love, it cuts like a knife,
Played your games, but I'm taking back my life. Temporary love, you left me to bleed,
But now I'm stronger, and it's you I don't need.

The scars you left, they scream in pain,
A twisted love, driving me insane.
From the ashes, I'm bleeding through,
A force unleashed, all thanks to you.
Your poison words, they cut so deep,
But now I'm rising from the dark, no longer weak.

Temporary love, it cuts like a knife,
Played your games, but I'm taking back my life. Temporary love, you left me to bleed,
But now I'm stronger, and it's you I don't need.

Temporary love, your flame has died,
In the end, it's me who's still alive.
Temporary love, your time is through,
Moving on now, and I won't miss you.

Thank you

You saw me in my darkness
And pulled me to the light Don't know how to thank you enough For pulling out all the knives
You saw and felt my pain
And wiped away my tears
And you stayed by my side Helped overcome my fears

I was drinking my sorrow away
And living in complete hell
Was not taking care of myself very well
But you came along and open my eyes
And made my world bright. An kept me continuing to breath and be thankful for this life. ?.
I got attached to you fast cause you saw the real me and stayed While everyone else around me vanished without a trace.
I fell inlove with you quick because You made me feel something real after being numb for so long I can't thank you enough For all you have done.

The heartbreak jukebox ???

Playing our song, memories of love, Where did we go wrong? Mind's racing, can't find peace, You won't give up, the ones who came between.

Promises broken, whispers in the night, Shadows of doubt, love out of sight, Tried to hold on, but the pain's too deep, In this empty room, I can't find sleep.

For months I drank, drowning memories, Finally past your cruel treacheries, You crawl back, saying you miss me, But won't let go of the trash, who tore you from me.

Echoes of laughter, now just a ghost, In this empty room, I miss you the most, But trust is shattered, can't be repaired, In this empty room love's never fair.

Heartbreak jukebox, playing our song, Memories of love where did we go wrong? Mind's racing, can't find peace, You won't give up, the ones who came between.

Im in pieces, scattered on the floor, Can't take this pain, can't take it anymore Thought we had forever, thought we had it all, But in this heartbreak, I continue to fall.

The Heartbreak jukebox, playing our song, Memories of love, where did we go wrong? Mind's racing, can't find peace, You won't give up, the ones who came between

The hike

As we walk together, creating a bond, Growing stronger as we hike beyond.
Nature's beauty guides the way,
To a peaceful haven where all hearts melt away.
With each step, we find our peace,
As the beauty of the hike brings positive release.
We explore and roam, Finding serenity in nature's sacred dome.
The path we tread, it leads us true,
To where dreams come into sweet view.
In nature's embrace, we find our grace,
And in this peaceful sanctuary, we find our rightful place.
Take the hike, it's the best therapy,
To release all your stress and feel truly free.
Embrace the beauty, feel blessed and great,
Let nature's wonders be your soul's mate.

Through my eyes

In my world of colors and light,
I invite you to my inner sight.
Through my eyes, dark stories unfold Emotions untold, waiting to just be told

Glimpses of joy & cries , like sunrays on a stream, trying to shine Reflecting the beauty within every dream. But also shadows that dance and sway, Whispering secrets of a darker day.

Through my eyes, you'll witness the pain, The heartbreaks endured, the tears like rain. Yet in my midst the struggles that I've faced, become resilience and emerges, for a strength to embrace.

See the moments of my love, so tender and pure, and true. My connections have formed, and became real in a vulnerability's gentle embrace. Discovering the courage to find my own world and grace.

So come and see with me,
The world as only my eyes can see.

Through this invitation I hope you find, A glimpse of my soul, an echo that's glowing and ready to be shown. Welcome and enjoy seeing my world through my eyes.

Toxic

When we first met, I felt so unsure, But time together made me adore. We had our fun, we had our bliss But things turned toxic, I can't dismiss.

You played your games, behind my back, But when I did the same, you attacked. You blamed me alone, for all that went wrong, But the truth is, we both played along.

I stood by you, fought battles tough, Helped you grow, but it was never enough. But you shot me down with your poison's sting, Opened my eyes, I was just a pawn in your fling.

How could you tear me down, bring me to my knees, Shattered all my fucking hopes and dreams with such ease. Leaving my heart sinking, lost in the sea, In the end, it was clear, you never loved me in the depths of all the heartbreak and pain, I found my strength, Though it may hurt now, it won't be my length. I'll rise above, with a heart that's healed, Embracing love's truth, my wounds will be sealed.

True love exist

I remind myself that journeys take time,As i am Setting my spirit free,and letting my soul take a break to easily breathe.

i take a step back and i listen closely, like a soaring dove in the morning sun, as all my love feels completely gone. As my forgiveness continues to carry on.

Ill Embrace the power to forgive and forget,And in my heart, hold the belief that true love will exist .for in the depths of vulnerability and all the trust,Love wont let me drown and wrap me up in a beliefs of fake lust.

I Keep pouring my aura in your every word. As i am Letting my emotions flow like the songs from the birds.And through your verses.I may find solace and peace As you discover in your own way that true love exists,but only in ways you may not have wished.

in my inner sense, a glimmer of hope will remain,For i believe a love's healing power can wash away all the pain Though it may take years. I hope I find a love that's genuine and true. A love to always be cherish and to hold on to.

Unbreakable queen

With the weight of the world upon my shoulders ,Against me, it feels, but I won't grow colder. I'll prove them wrong, I won't give in, Each time life knocks me down, I'll rise and win.

My heart, once torn, now grows strong, No longer trapped in a cycle, I'll move along.I refuse to let pain define my name, Embracing change, playing a whole new fucking game."

So I'll rise from the ashes, fierce and unbroken,Facing the world head-on, with words left unspoken.Through the battles I've fought, I've found my own strength where I No longer hide from my own damn pain.

"So I'll stay true to myself, no need to pretend,With gratitude in my heart, for you, my dear fake friends. Through thick and thin, ill always remain,Growing with only myself with connection that won't drained I finally became an unbreakable queen.

ungrateful

i loved you since i was eleven now i am thirty one and the love still remains all the shit you have put me through i am still here standing like a fool standing beside a complete ungrateful asshole like you im starting to be strong to leave all that i have worked for just fall behind i rather be happy by myself than to be happy with a jerk off who cant man up last night you were drunk again you whispered in my ear an told me im nothing i looked deep in your eyes an told you Straight up to look hard in the mirror you stand in front of every night an see how much of a pathetic coward you are ill never forget the other night when you told me your only here because i tricked you into making you think i would make life easy for you i never said such a thing i never said im your damn slave and maid

i regret getting your name on my wrist once i get ahead it will be removed an you'll never be missed

ill never look back on this part of my life ill drink myself to death to keep you out of my mind when i walk out that door with my loving pets an the clothes on my back ill hope you learn your lesson from this as i walk out this door you can go kiss my ass im saying goodbye an never looking back

Universe cries

In the silence of the night, a black rose weeps, Its tears fall unseen, in the shadows it keeps. No one hears the whispers of its lonely cry, Underneath the starlit, in different sky.

In the garden of the lost, where dreams fade away, A black rose blooms, in the cold light of day. Its petals dark as midnight, its thorns like despair,

A symbol of my heartache, floating through the night air.

Like a black rose crying a night, Hidden in the dark, out of sight. In the universe, my sorrow lies, Unheard, unseen, the universe cries.

Stars above, they shimmer, but they don't see, The silent tears, the pain that's inside of me. In the vast expanse, where echoes fade, A black rose cries, in the night it stayed.

Unveiled love

I know I'm jealous, guided by my heart, Can't help it, feels like I'm falling apart. Am I crazy, or just damaged inside? Need someone real, someone who won't hide.

Baby, is that you, or just another lie? Same old story, making me cry. Thought you changed, trying to be the man I need, But I can't trust you, till proof is shown to me.

Show me the truth, don't leave me in the dark, Prove your love, reignite the spark. I'm holding on, but my faith is wearing thin, Show me you're real, let the healing begin.

I've been broken, time and time again, Lost in the shadows, drowning in pain. But I see a light, could it be you? Or just another dream, that won't come true?

Baby, is that you, or just another lie? Same old story, making me cry. Thought you changed, trying to be the man I need, But I can't trust you, till proof is shown to me.

Show me the truth, don't leave me in the dark, Prove your love, reignite the spark. I'm holding on, but my faith is wearing thin, Show me you're real, let the healing begin.

I need to see, the man you claim to be, No more games, just honesty. If you love me, let your actions speak, Prove your worth, don't let me feel weak.

Show me the truth, don't leave me in the dark, Prove your love, right from the start I'm holding on, but my faith is wearing thin, Show me you're real, let our healing begin.

Understand I need to see the proof, Understand I need to know the truth. Show me you're different or we won't make it through.

Blind heart can't see very far, there shouldn't be any doubts if it's true love were chasing for. I'm waiting here, with an open heart, Hoping you play your part. But until then, I'll guard my soul, Trust is earned, and love will take its toll.

Victory song!

you may have sheltered me But then i broke free ,Now I'm learning to stand on my own two feet I'm not sure, where to go from here But I am ready to face the fears.I'll keep taking my time and make it clear I'll find my right path without any tears

I'll keep chasing my dreams, far or near I'll rise above the doubt of fear,I'll seize the day and make it mine And live my life , without a single line.

I will take the risk, and embrace the unknown I'll never give up, or let my fears be shown, i will follow my heart, and trust in my own. Ill keep pushing myself to be better and strong.

With every step that I take, i will rise above all The challenges that come along, and when it ends I'll be the one singing the victory song.

We rise again

We may fall, we may break, we all make huge mistakes, But we get up and fight back, no matter what it takes,
The road is long, the nights are dark, But we blaze our own trail, leaving a mark.

We rise again, from the ashes of our pain,
Like a phoenix in the night, we ignite the flame, With every fall, we stand tall,
We rise again, we rise strong

Tears may flow, and doubts may grow,
But deep inside, we know, we know,
That every scar is a badge of honor,
And every step forward makes us stronger.

We rise again, from the ashes of our pain,
Like a phoenix in the night, we ignite the flame, With every fall, we stand tall, We rise again, we rise again.

In the silence of the night, We find the strength to fight, Through the battles and the storms, We got stronger and stronger in the darkest times, we roar like lions,
A force to reckon with, defying the horizons, Together we face the highs and lows, With unbreakable spirit, we overthrow.

We rise again, from the ashes of our pain,
Like a phoenix in the night, we ignite the flame, With every fall, we stand tall,
We rise again, we rise strong
With fire in our eyes, we are Unstoppable and fierce, we rise again,
With every fall, we get up and rise again standing tall.

Wherever would i be without you

When I feel my faith is empty

I look at you n i believe again just know your the only one for me

Where would I ever be without you if I never have found you darling you are the only one for me

When my cloud above me is pitch black I picture your face the rain clears up n the sun starts glowing again your all ill ever need your my only king

If I had a hard night n your not around

If I think this night won't ever end

I just close my eyes an think of you n I can see the night ending soon you are

My only queen

Wherever would I be without you

If I didnt have you

Wherever would you be without me

If you didnt have me ?

Oh oh

Wherever would I be without you

Without you to love me

Wherever would you be without me

Without me to love you ?

All the years when I dreamt all the dreams felt,like they would,never come true you walked into my life an made them all real n all my dreams stop feeling millions miles away without you walking into my life ill feel like ill just be wasting time going out of my mind

Wherever would I be without you

If I didnt have you ?

Wherever would you be without me

If you didnt have me?

Wherever would i be without you

Without you to love me?

Wherever would you be without me

Without me to love you?

Where would you be

Where would I be

Wherever would u be without my love

Wherever would I be without your love

Without you baby my world would still be spinning

Without you darling my world would still be turning

In glad we came together an together

We will always be baby our world will always be complete ...

Whiskey high

You can't catch me 'cause I'm on that whiskey, shadows creeping, feeling risky, Under moonlit skies, I glide, Whiskey bride, where I confide.

You can't chain me, I'm too wild Blazing trails, I'm running wild, Heart's on fire but out of sight, Got that rebel soul, burning bright.

Through the shadows, through the flames, In the silence, hear my name, Years have passed, but I'm still high In my whiskey I rise and fly.

You can't have me, I'm too free, On my own path, where I need to be, Riding high on grandpa's pride, A spirit untamed, with a wild ride

In the shadows, I find light, With every turn, I fight the fight A rebel soul, a wandering life, In this whiskey high, I ride the nights.

Whispering of our hearts

In depths of our silence, love sympathy arrives, A gentle breeze carries secrets buried deep inside
Through tender words, a story unfolds, With every gentle touch, an melody in deep toned

In darkest of the night, whispers softly appear Embracing hearts, an touching lives far and near. The moonlight dances, casting its spells, As love's whispers in our hearts deepest dwell

Together we wonder exploring a world that's unknown, In the language of our love, our souls have really grown With Whispering melodies, an eternal verse

Love's symphony, a blessing we can all immerse. If we listen closely to the whispering of our hearts

white Russian

My favorite is a sweet white Russian drink i love it so much it helps me think i try to drink it every chance that i get cause i love the feel of Alcohol, seeping through my lips

i feel when im about to float in a cloud an the rooms all just spinning around takes away the emotions that i have but i know my limits to quit i just don't listen to what anybody says ill pour anther then anther after that ill keep pouring till i get every last drip when i see my bottle is empty and dry ill just stumble into my bed scareming an shouting hoping i don't wake up with a pounding head cause i never got any curable med's

You didn't care

you never had any family an hardly no friends but you always had me an now that has to end you failed my heart an didn't even try you didn't see my love for you in my eyes you bashed me to your friends without no hesitations didn't care one bit about me in that whole conversation i have become so broken with all of your actions an my home diminished to nothing i gave you a home to call your own an brought love an laugh the best way i know i tried my best but you didn't care to see you wanted to do you an forget about me saying you love me with that look in your eye

all i see now is just a cold hearted lie you continue to do things that only fits you an those are the things you've asked me not to do my dream of us does not look like its coming true an all i feel is sad n blue we both did things we can't undo an not that long ago i was everything to you now you're looking for other things too do we cant go back to where it was before cause i barley know you anymore all my faith i had for you faded away in thin air an made me falling out of love for you all because you didn't care

you wrecked my world

I thought we had it all but i was clearly wrong we had such a long run but now its gone and now its time its time to move on finding a place where i belong

You took my love
And broke my heart
left me crying in the dark an left me to hurt
now were at war the war that you have brought cause you wrecked my world you torn me apart

i think its fair to say That I had lost my mind You got off on the hurting' an i am still suffering inside you tore me down like i was nothing now i am healing and my war is starting

You took my love
And broke my heart
i need to fix it all by myself you played with my mind

an left me to hurt
you torn me apart an now im bringing the storm cause you wrecked my world

You've got my heart

Walking down this lonely dirt road, Hand in hand, our love unfolds. Through the highs and lows, we ride, With you by my side, there's nothing to hide.

Under the stars, we're getting high and jamming You and me, forever planning.

In your eyes, I see my dreams,

Baby, you're the one, or so it seems.

Thoughts are racing in my head, can't get them to go away, But with you, I find my peace, every single day. My heart's been broken, can't repair it anymore, But your love heals me, makes me feel secure.

Every moment spent with you is gold, In your arms, I feel so bold. No more fears, no more doubts, With you, I know what love's about.

We dance under the moonlight, feeling so alive, In this crazy world, you make me thrive. Your smile, your touch, it's all I need, With you, my love, I feel so freed.

Thoughts are racing in my head, can't get them to go away, But with you, I find my peace, every single day. My heart's been broken, can't repair it anymore, But your love heals me, makes me feel secure.

We've been through the storm, weathered the rain, Together we've conquered all the pain.

No matter what, I'll stand by you, Because our love is strong and true.

My relationships always fail, can't find anyone to stay loyal or real, But with you, it's different, you make my heart heal. Through all the pain and past mistakes, With you, my love, a new chapter awakes.

Thoughts are racing in my head, can't get them to go away, But with you, I find my peace, every single day.

My heart's been broken, can't repair it anymore, But your love heals me, makes me feel secure.

So here we are, on this dirt road, With you, my love, my heart's been sold. In your eyes, I see my dreams, Forever and always, or so it seems.

So let's keep it real, just you and me, Living this dream, wild and free. With every beat, we'll make our mark, Forever yours, you've got my heart.

Your fate

Feel the fire burnin' deep inside, Every heartbeat, can't deny the ride, It's a force that pulls me, can't control, Like a magnet, drawing me to your soul.

Feel me now, can you see my pain? In this storm, I'm lost again, Your touch burns, your kiss scars, In this battle, we've gone too far.

Lost in the rhythm, lost in your eyes, A connection that defies time, In your arms, your fate pulls me in where pain begins all over again

Feel me now, can you see my pain? In this storm, I'm lost again, Your touch burns, your kiss scars, In this battle, we've gone too far.

In the shadows, where all secrets lie, Your whispers echo, and I can't deny, A deeper urge, a stronger need, In your control, I feel complete.

Feel me now, can you see my pain? In this storm, I'm lost again Your touch burns, your kiss scars, In this battle, we've gone too far.

The fire inside, it rages on, A love so fierce, but now it's gone, Every word, a dagger's thrust, In this war, who can we trust?

Feel me now, can you see my pain? In this storm, I'm lost again, Your touch burns, your kiss scars, In this battle, we've gone too far.

Your lies

I was pure and genuine, you shattered my heart, I was understanding, but you tore me apart, I chased you down, but you drained me dry, Now look in the mirror, was it worth the lie?

You stole my last light, turned it to night, Left me drowning in the chaos of your fights. We gave it all, but you let me fall, Now I'm gone, and you're left with nothing at all.

I stood by your side, patient and strong, But you fed me lies, and now I'm gone, I wanted to believe in the love you faked,

But now I'm moving on, and your heart will ache. You stole my last light, turned it to night,

Left me drowning in the chaos of your fights. We gave it all, but you let me fall, Now I'm gone, and you're left with nothing at all.

Now I've risen up, broke free from the pain, No longer trapped in the shadows of your disdain.

I've learned to love myself, I found my own way, While you're left to regret losing me every single day.

You stole my last light, turned it to night, Left me drowning in the chaos of your fights. We gave it all, but you let me fall, Now I'm gone, and you're left with nothing at all.

So ask yourself, was she worth the pain? Now I've moved on, and you're left in the rain. You took your shot, now feel the burn, I'm rising up, and it's your turn to learn.

your not right for me i asked you many times to help me and you put up a big fight cause i don't work as hard as you and this is not right i try my best to keep this house clean but you don't care in helping me you just keep making messes only i have to clean and this is not right

I see it in your eyes you don't care
my heart is broken
but ill be alright
i don't need you here
wasting my precious time we are not a team
an your just not right for me

you think you have power over everything but you were wrong bout that cause i took it all back you made me feel like i was fool into believing only you now whoso fooling who the jokes only on you an this is not right

I seen in your eyes
you don't care
my heart is broken
but ill be alright
i don't need you here

we are not a team
an your just not right for me

there was many times you made me feel like i was not good enough even thou i served you every meal made sure your laundry was done right folded an put away just like you ask me too but i still felt like i did something wrong cause you were never pleased with anything ive done for you

i seen in your eyes
that you don't care
my heart is broken
but ill be alright
i don't need you here
wasting my precious time
we are not a team
an your just not right for me
