THE THOUGHT OF YOU

I no longer check your social media.
Finally, the mixture in my stomach is gone.
Woke up one day and decided that blocking you, brings me peace of mind.
I believe it is best for me, keeping you as a good feeling.
The process of letting you go is not as easy as I imagined
All the nights I cried till I fell asleep, still remain active.

Releasing all the history and the energies we shared, it's very relieving.
For the longest I feared to be alone, but I've come to realize...
My purpose in life is to heal, to elevate those who are in need.
I was put on your path to take the darkness out,
To heal and prepare you for your next journey.
It was after the breakup when I understood,
My presence was a moment in your lifetime.
I gave you a part of me to accompany you on your lonely days.

The structure of my heart is beyond abstract and beautiful.
Modifications are necessary to evolve, to grow.
Nurturing you was easy for me, the hard part was you, accepting it.
You were scared to trust, to love and to be whole again.
I didn't mind. I knew what I could do for you and the outcome.

The thought of you lingers in the back of my brain
I managed to get your smell out of my skin
Getting elevated with my favorite strain, blue dream
Fantasizing of what could've been no longer bothers me
Baby, I've lost, and I've won
Today, I can't decide. I am the middle lane.

We live instantly, running constantly, rushing from place to place
Clocks and dimensions.
I stop, I stare, I listen, and I learn. Feel the warmth of the coldest day, 19 degrees
Cold days bring me the thought of you

In this realm I trust, the pinkest moments will always be blue.

The new year brings in new energy

Shedding my old habits and creating new ones

I must leave you behind, letting you have that piece of me

At the Yule I will mourn for your existence and, for the thought of you.

SOCIETY

What is society to me?

I often think about this question

Are we some kind of rebellion waiting to be saved?

Accepting the population of this universe, reminds me how small we are

The president is calling! Pick up the phone

He said "we will all die tomorrow" Oh no! What must we do?

Society is panic.

Balance.

The good must win, the bad must lose.

Developing new ways over the years causes distress.

We have our own paths to choose

Winter brings people together with its coziness

Forgetting about the sins, they prey.

Society is change.

I feel trapped being crowded with strangers

My vision gets blurry and my palms get sweaty

Facing scenarios my social inner is disturbed

Heart rate reaches climax

I play it along till is time to go home

Society is anxiety.

You stand in the middle of the dark room

I noticed, but you didn't

Days passed. Smiling at the phone in the break room

He said "write a poem about me"

There's nothing stronger than knowing someone deeply

I'll write a million poems about you.

Society is love.

SIGNING OFF

I be trying not to go back my ways
I can't revert

Better day than yesterday
Taking it day by day
Never hearing what they say
I just do it my way

Consistency is my biggest enemy
The caffeine calls my name every morning
My body begs for hydration
Skin feels a bit rough, I blame it on winter
Under these sheets I seek validation

The years have made me different, how can they not?
I don't listen to anybody, except, the screams inside my head
Don't approach me with honey, instead tell me that you don't want me
Raised in the catholic belief, my ears bleed painfully.

All my life I've moved from space to space.
How could I ever be stable if I never knew what stable meant.
Normalizing toxicity was how our household grew up.
Don't ask us to be normal when you don't know someone's story.
222 as I write, you my angel watching me from the great white.

BLUE

A new feeling
Not rushed, not pure but not evil
Radiant as the sun, I refuse to believe
My naked soul begs for you, tho my heart still grieves
Look me in the eyes, let me see you
Blue like the ocean, I'm swimming through the reef

Summer Snow by Larry June
Grew up in Seattle but his heart is in Cali
I never met someone like you I hope you know that The tattoos on your skin lowkey turn me on Afraid of being vulnerable
Come here baby I like the vibe you on

122721 winter storm
Nineteen miles per hour thru the darkest roads
Arriving to Bellevue with your sneakers on Talked for hours, clocks ticking
December penetrated you in my skin
On your way back, I said "text me when you get home"

February 2022
Long since I heard from you
Feeling the heat at the San Diego Zoo
A date I will always remember
Panicked when the drug store gave me a positive
Decisions, would you change my life?
In the afterlife is where we will reunite
My heart aches, looking at the sky I imagine your face in the starlight

I feel you close to me
Obsessing of what could've been, takes over me
I'm going crazy, asking the tarot, can you please hurry!

You read me like the palm of your hand
Only you that I'm thinking of day to day
Told you I'm different, I want to know you
Caught up in the moment I know you're coming

We will see each other again
Stuck up in your head, as you colored me blue
I don't want to wait for the best if I can have you
Is this what you do?
Watching the sunset at a nice view
You take a sip of my cold brew

SMILE

40 degrees dropped
Can't seem to get my head around
I laid eyes on you, my brain popped
Million feelings fighting I can't feel the ground
Thinking too hard I'm starting to levitate
Don't let me fall, promise me, once I'm down I won't resuscitate
Loud music feeling groovy
If I ask you something, would you lie to me?
If I ask you something, can you vent to me?
I know I don't give off good vibes but I'm telling you right now, for you I ride
It's been a minute since I let my guard down
I hope you don't disappoint me, or I will turn around
Let your dark come out, let your light grow out
Your world don't scare me, my people is brown
Just getting home, at my phone I smile
You said 'what you doing tonight, let's hang out'
All I want is your company and a few French kisses, hopefully
He said "excitement in Paris is unintentionally"
As I'm getting ready this feeling grows immensely
Making this shit rhyme and still going at it faithfully
What you do to me is an abuse
Both from water signs
Making me feel like the ocean's muse
I still find this wild, staring at the mirror while I smile.

PRE-SENT

It takes bravery to trust your own advice
Knowing that one day you'll fall to rise
Is not a lot of times I get desperate
But in moments of need, I concentrate
What is love without me? What is life without you?
Let me love myself, let me keep this up
Don't rush me, don't shush me, just treat me carefully

What can you say about the news?
Is it scary or are they on snooze?
Big times are coming, I can't keep up like this. I'm drowning.
I look ahead
Tumbling between the sun and your forehead
I want to stop, let my flow go numb, before that, I want to make sure you'll stick around
I mean no disrespect, but what did you expect
Don't send me Goodmorning texts if you're going to leave me hanging
Don't send me Goodnight texts if you're out there banging

Tired of listening to whatever they say
Why can't you see, in this life no one's here to stay
I want to go back, live the old way
No stress, just me, the moon and the ocean
With a salt bath I purify
Under the light of the moon, I cry
Staring at the ocean talking to the mother of the night
I come clean to you, scared to let you in Please tell me, I am all that you need

I don't know how long I will be here
You hypnotized me with your smell, cashmere
Hold me tight and tell me dear
What is your most dangerous fear?
Cherry crisp when I walk in, when you hear it, you'll know is me

Waves of sadness invading my space
Surfing them all, I win the race
I love the rain pouring down my skin
Feeling the cold and the ego of the wind
Nothing to fear, nothing to trade in Just me, you and the realm in between.

ME SEEING YOU

I want to be by the sun.
Far away in a forbidden land
Take your hands and cover up my scars.
The feeling of sorrow is what keeps me alive.
Burning fire when the curtains fall
In a world so small we break the chains off
I'm not so perfect but I'm still judged.
Take away the vanity and I'm left with nothing on

Meet me outside where there's no bars.
All I ever wanted is to run away far.
I can't be asked how my life is going.
The hollow nights witness my light growing.
Living inside my head floating in dreamland
The feeling living within is hard to explain.
Not letting anyone know is the power I withhold.
I can't ask a simple mortal for the eternal.
I'm more than what you can imagine, I am perpetual.

Is it the way I walk? The way I talk?
She wants to be what you would want her to be?
Tell me where and when, I show up for you to touch my body.
If you want me, I can be your penitentiary?
There're no errors, no rights, in my space you are sheltered.
Come with me and tell me what you feel.
Talk about my eyes and how you feel when they look at you.
Can't say you're for me or I'm for you but the essence is real.
I shoot words, traveling around your heart, you fall in love with the rocky path.

Liberty is a country next to solitude.
Don't ever cry for cheap love, let my tears protect your hope.
In this throne, where I feel so alone my heart wants quarantine.
Separating the emotions and duty with my self esteem

I'm the only one who knows where I'm headed.
Keep quiet, don't leave, hug me tight and elevate with me, don't you feel lightheaded?
Let your kisses melt my beliefs, in the near future I will be your peace.

Heaven or hell
Take me on vacation after we get there.
Enjoying the moment when I don't need a thing, I know it sounds rare.
When I'm gone, purple water running thru your veins.
The moon is the lover we all want, she chooses when it rains.
I'm the victim under your under-bags.
I'll let you take me where the wind doesn't blow, and reality doesn't deform.
Let's create a new world, where ego doesn't exist and 'I love you' will be the highest crime to commit.
Far away from this big orbit
Is where our love will flourish at the perfect moment.

ALMOST

I hate the strange feeling in the room
The white noise makes it all go away
Smoking till the clouds are on the roof
I miss you so much, I feel so lonely today
I'm so high up not even the flesh will stop me
To tell all the things I really mean
Here's to you my open heart
Everyday I wake up with such weight, I fall
The dark in my space gives me comfort
You and I, always almost
Again and again
We were always on the verge of almost Never nothing, never something
The more I look into the past the more I imagine what could've been
About the other way, the other direction
The way you used to touch my skin
I didn't ask for nothing, never waiting for perfection
We have our differences and that affects the relation
How I wish for a last kiss and a last question
Did you ever love me?
It's okay if there's no answer
Running away from the demons hiding inside my bedroom
Horoscope this week said I paired well with Cancer
I know I shouldn't reach out
How can you blame me, we been through a lot
It's hard to forget someone who impacted you hard
Maybe in a different lifetime we were who we always wanted to be Maybe the moon and stars aligned
Maybe that feeling of "almost" never died
Anyway, I hope we can one day both be happy
Under this moonlight I poured out my tears into the ocean tide
Let me be that sensation you feel when you write
I penetrated you with my intellect

And you said I always think I'm right
I highlighted that part, the one you said I gained your respect
I'm going crazy, I'll hold on until again, we both not in a fight
I will be far, somewhere south at the seacoast
Thinking of you, our love was always an almost

FOGGANY

Summer is gone, winter is taking over
Don't mind if my eyes water while I'm sober
Raindrops falling on my windshield
Seattle's cold ego spreading through the city
Reminds me when you and me used to be out in the open Cigarettes and sex playing in the shallow background and all I can think about is how we used to see each other more often
Anywhere you go I'll present myself in a different form
Everywhere I go I hope I see you behind every shadow that is unknown
I been stuck
Following the footsteps of a dark soul, can you not?
Tangles and scribbles
Life seems so easy when I'm high on this reefer
The heart wants to stay but the moon says no
Help me understand, is it me that you are always thinking about?
Is it me who keeps your days company?
Separated into two like the two fishes on my sign
I'll take the dark path so you can walk the white one, closer to the light.

LOST LOVE

I placed her into the hands of wicked men
Behind closed doors, I gave birth to death
Screaming so loud but no sound coming out
Red water spreading, my body sinks in it
A trillion needles went through me it didn't feel nearly as close as losing you

Hunted by the nightmares of your beautiful face
I see you looking at me with those dreamy eyes
The guilt is eating me alive
I don't have time to stop, I'm being chased
Thinking about the past is irrelevant
Writing about you makes me feel arrogant
I will never forget you, we will be together soon, time flies

Crying in my room feeling lost again
I cannot repeat the same cycle
Too many choices and I will choose you at the end
I hope one day I can forgive myself
The thunder has lightning and I'm giving up on myself
How can I make this about you, when is all about myself
Lost in the crowd I begged for help, no one seem to care

Don't close the curtains on me
Tell me that you need me and hug me slowly
Maybe I'm too young to leave the planet
Maybe I'm here to conceive diamond carats
The ones that don't know me think I'm crazy
The ones that do know me, they betrayed me

Don't get lost
I write my feelings down and I don't get scared
The world is vulnerable to the unknown

I'm vulnerable to the feeling that you're gone

If heaven is real fly high my little dove

This will be our last goodbye I'd be given the path to the Netherworld

FANTASY

Long distance connection through music
Something both parties look forward to Hearing the rhythm with the intention of making love
The greater the song the longer the pleasure
However, they can't admit the love they have for each other.

Holding hands on a long cruise
The world doesn't stop for no one
To them the world turns into ice
When the pair meet wounds gets healed
Problems fade away.

The place smells divine It's hard to say goodbye
It's almost like a dream when the world begins again
How can two souls feel the way they feel without touching?
How can two brains connect without communication?
The energy surrounding the place is filled with the good smoke.

I feel you, in every way, every hour of the night
The intentions, the thoughts and the feelings, all the good things you provoke
Deep like the ocean, where no one can find us, is where the light never shines
There in your eyes, the scene I always want to perceive.

Lost in track, can we ever go back?
Me, Hennessy & you
One of those nights, grooved by the weather, help me unpack
My emotional mess sits back and enjoys the view.

All inside my head forming part of my memory
Not hearing from you it's suffocating me
You went with the wind and the summer it's just entering Cut back from those habits this shit it's feeling wavy
Our story reached the end of the road

This a goodbye to you my love, it was all a fantasy.

RAMADAN

Not even a day has gone by, I'm missing you
Thinking of you brings comfort to my heart
A lot of confusion and delusion happening
I wish you were here, to talk
Time is passing and I feel like I'm stuck
This lifestyle it's getting annoying, please take it back
How can I escape and forget about it?
I want to go somewhere far, where there's more land and less crowded
Maybe the peace I look for is hiding in some religion I always neglect
Maybe the calm I need will never come and I will admit that I failed
Your energy surrounds me indefinitely
It smells sweet, like vanilla, hearts and candy
My body feels the warmth of our memory
This moment is everything I could ever want
Purple lights, smelling like gas, that was intentionally
Excuse the rush I'm just feeling hazy
Reminiscing, should I go back to my blonde hair?
Believing in the past, the soul yells in despair
Everyday we change, I have been doing some thinking
So at peace with myself, I don't understand
Why it feels so good to finally give in
To accept your love, to let the negativity drift away
Every love song plays deeply along the inches of my skin
Looking forward to the day my eyes remind my heart of your essence
Balancing off like the weather this week seems like I'm walking on paper thin
And then there's you again, never fails, it's your presence
Takes me so high, the high you don't want to come back
The high that leaves you dry but makes one an addict
And when I fall back down, I see myself in your eyes
So dark like the deepest ocean and so far like an endless paradise
Crystal clear reflection in your pupils, blushes me with pink
I'm swimming the oceans don't let it be a tragedy
No contact for a month feels like a month without sun

Gloomy, gray and empty

Spring is here, summer will soon be gone

So much to feel and say just like when I was twenty

Nobody else in the planet makes me this happy, you get me

Sex drive it's crazy, it got me on the run

March 26th, I'll wait a thousand years for you or until the end of Ramadan
