

Anthology of annabrooke

Presented by

My poetic side

summary

evergreen

evergreen

if I could describe my love for you in only one word it would be evergreen and I know it makes no sense to you and it's not because your eyes are forever green like the most beautiful things I've ever seen it's because I truly believe I love you like an evergreen grows I don't need you around constantly to know that I love you just like an evergreen doesn't need constant sunlight to survive the evergreen will find a little bit of warmth and make due and all I need is the idea of you inside my head to know that my love for you isn't gonna leave I wish I could explain why I love you but the list is already way too long I feel like an evergreen because no matter summer winter spring or fall I'm still gonna love you you could come and go like summer but like summer you always come back some summers are hotter than others but that's how love works there will always be pine needles to pick up but I'm willing see sometimes I feel like you mistake me for the other trees have been in your life but not ever trees in every green the other trees will lose their leaves when it gets hard and cold outside but the evergreen it keeps on growing so like the evergreen I'm gonna keep on fighting and I'm not gonna give up on our love because of one rough season so for as long as I'm standing I promise to love you like an evergreen