Love Found and Lost

After you came into my life,
Hope bloomed like a flower in spring,
You made me trust someone again,
And believe in love's sweet sting.

Your love was a soothing balm,
That healed my broken heart,
I opened myself up to you,
And let love do its part.

You made me feel alive again,
With your laughter and your smile,
I loved you more than words could say,
And you made life worthwhile.

But now you're gone, and I'm alone,
And my heart is filled with pain,
I trusted you with all my soul,
But you left me in the rain.

I thought our love was meant to last,
But I guess I was wrong,
Now I'm left with memories,
Of a love that's come and gone.

But even though you've left me now,
I'll always be grateful for,
The hope and trust and love you gave,
That I'll cherish forevermore.

Love's Unending Quest

Onward I wander, on a quest of love,
Through endless fields and skies above.
With heart in hand and hope in soul,
I seek the one who'll make me whole.

I've travelled far and wide, it seems,
Through mountains, valleys, and flowing streams.
Yet still I seek that special one,
The perfect match, my only one.

I've met many on this quest of mine,
Some charming, some witty, some just fine.
But none have stirred my heart to flame,
None have made me feel the same.

And so I journey on, through the night,
Through storms and darkness, I'll not lose sight.
For somewhere out there, she must be,
The one who's meant to be with me.

And when at last we meet, I'll know,
For love will blossom and surely grow.
And in her eyes, I'll see the truth,
The proof that love is worth the pursuit.

So onward I wander, on my quest of love,
Through endless fields and skies above.
With heart in hand and hope in soul,
I seek the one who'll make me whole.

My Love

My dear love, I come to thee
With words of passion, on bended knee
For thou art the star in my sky
The apple of my eye, my reason why
With each passing day, my love for thee grows
Like a river that endlessly flows
And I cannot contain these feelings inside
For thou art the one I want by my side
I offer thee my heart, my soul, my all
To stand beside thee, to catch thee when you fall
To cherish thee through life's sweet journey
And never let go, for eternity
So, my love, I ask thee this day
Wilt thou be mine, in every way?
For I cannot imagine a life without thee
My love, my queen, my heart's jubilee.

Spring Flowers

Spring flowers, oh how they bloom
Their beauty spreads, chasing gloom.
From gardens to fields, they sprout.
Vivid petals, without a doubt.

Daffodils swag in the breeze.
Their bright yellow hue is sure to please.
Tulips, oh so elegant and tall
In vibrant shades, they stand tall.

Cherry blossoms, delicate and pink a symbol of renewal, we think
Magnolias, with their fragrant scent
A sure sign that winter is spent

Irises, with their regal grace
In purples and blues, they take their place.
Lilacs, with their sweet perfume
A springtime delight, in full bloom

The beauty of spring flowers is so grand.
With their brilliance, we can hardly stand
A reminder that nature's cycle goes on, and that beauty will never be gone.

Unrequited Love

I loved her deeply, with all my heart and soul
But she chose someone else, and now I'm left alone
My love was pure, honest and true
But it wasn't enough to make her choose me too
I watched as she went to him, with a smile on her face
And it felt like a dagger, piercing my heart with disgrace
I couldn't understand, what did he have that I lacked?
Why did she choose him over me, when I loved her back?
I cried myself to sleep, night after night
Wondering what I could have done to make things right
But the truth was, it wasn't about me
It was about her heart, and who she wanted to be
So I must accept that she's chosen another
And try to move on, from my love for her
But the pain will linger, deep inside my chest
For the love I had for her, will never truly rest
I'll always remember the way she made me feel
And the love that I had, that was so very real
But now it's time to say goodbye, and let her be
For her happiness, and her heart's desire, are not for me.

Mother's Love

A mother's love is a force to behold,
A bond that's unbreakable, never grows old,
A flame that burns bright in the darkest of days,
A guiding light that shows us the way.

Her touch is soothing, her embrace warm,
She shields us from harm, keeps us from harm,
She's there to kiss away our tears,
And chase away all our fears.

In her arms, we feel safe and secure,
Her love is a haven that will endure,
Through thick and thin, through joy and pain,
Her love is an anchor that will remain.

She's the heart and soul of our family,
A source of strength and stability,
Her love is pure, unconditional,
And will remain forever irreplaceable.

A mother's love is a gift from above,
A treasure that we should always love,
So let us cherish, honor, and hold dear,
The love of a mother, forever and near.

Heartbreak Hurt's

She broke my heart, shattered it to pieces,
Left me feeling lost, like I'm stuck in a crisis.
I thought we had something real, something true,
But in the end, it was all just a lie, a ruse.

I gave her my all, my love, my devotion,
But she didn't care, she had her own notion.
She left me standing there, with nothing to say,
Wondering why love had to end this way.

The pain in my chest, it just won't go away,
No matter how hard I try to keep it at bay.
I wish I could turn back time, make things right,
But it's too late now, she's gone out of sight.

I know I'll heal, I'll learn to move on,
But for now, the hurt just seems too strong.
She broke my heart, and it's hard to mend,
But I'll keep trying, until my heart can love again.

The Wood's

The woods, oh how they call to me
With their whispered secrets and rustling leaves
A place of peace and tranquility
Where nature's beauty never leaves

The trees stand tall and proud
Their branches reaching up to the sky
Their leaves shimmering in the sun
As the wind gently passes by

The birds sing sweet melodies
Their voices carrying through the air
Their wings fluttering in the breeze
As they dance without a care

The rustling of the leaves beneath my feet
As I wander through the peaceful wood
The scent of pine and earth so sweet
Filling me with a sense of good

The woods, a place of wonder
A sanctuary for the soul
A place to breathe and ponder
And let nature take control

So let us embrace the woods
And all their beauty and grace
For in this magical place we find
A sense of peace and a smiling face.

Sonnet : "Endless Love"

Endless love, a flame that never dies,
A bond that time and distance cannot sever,
A force that lifts us up to the skies,
And makes our hearts beat strong forever.

Through all the trials and the test of time,
This love endures, unwavering and true,
A light that guides us through the darkest climb,
And gives us hope when all seems lost and blue.

With every passing day our love grows stronger,
Like the ebb and flow of the endless tide,
And though our path may sometimes be a bit longer,
Our love will carry us on through the ride.

So let us embrace this love with all our might,
And hold on to it through the day and night.

Lost Valentine Memories

My lost valentine, where have you gone?
Leaving me here, feeling so alone.
I search for you in every place,
But all I find is an empty space.
I remember the times we shared,
The love we had, the way we cared.
Our hearts beat as one, in perfect rhyme,
But now I'm left with just memories in time.
I wonder if you think of me,
Or if our love was just a fantasy.
I long for you, my valentine,
But now I must accept that you're not mine.
Though I may never hold you near,
My love for you will always be sincere.
So I'll keep the memories close to my heart,
And cherish the love that we had from the start.

Father's Unconditional Love

A father's love is often described as deep, unconditional, and selfless. It is a unique bond that a father shares with his child, characterized by care, guidance, and support. A father's love can manifest in various ways, but its essence remains constant: to nurture, protect, and provide for their children.

A father's love is often evident in the sacrifices he makes for his family. Whether it's working long hours to ensure financial stability, putting his own needs aside to prioritize his children's well-being, or being a reliable source of emotional support, a father's love is demonstrated through his actions.

Fathers also play a significant role in shaping their children's lives. They offer guidance, teach important life lessons, and serve as role models. Through their words and actions, fathers instill values such as integrity, perseverance, and compassion. They encourage their children to dream big, pursue their goals, and overcome obstacles.

A father's love can be seen in the moments of tenderness and connection he shares with his children. From bedtime stories and playful interactions to heartfelt conversations and comforting hugs, fathers create lasting memories that leave an indelible mark on their children's lives.

In addition, a father's love is often marked by unwavering support. Whether it's cheering from the sidelines at sports events, attending school functions, or celebrating their children's achievements, fathers are there to offer encouragement and celebrate their children's successes, no matter how big or small.

Ultimately, a father's love is a powerful force that shapes the lives of his children. It provides a sense of security, stability, and belonging. It is a love that endures through the ups and downs, triumphs and challenges, and remains a constant presence throughout a person's life.

It's important to note that while the concept of a father's love is generally positive, not all individuals may have experienced this kind of love from their fathers due to various circumstances.

Nonetheless, the ideal father's love embodies care, support, and a deep emotional connection with their children.
